BIRTHS.

31,641 Births were registered in Scotland during the quarter, being at the annual rate of 302 for every ten thousand of the estimated population, or 3·02 per cent.

In the Principal Town Districts, the Birth-rate for every ten thousand persons was 317; in the Large Town Districts, 325; in the Small Town Districts, 302; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 271; and in the Insular-Rural Districts, 212.

The Birth-rate in Greenock for every ten thousand persons was 342; in Glasgow, and in Aberdeen, 333; in Paisley, 307; in Leith, 298; in Dundee, 287; in Edinburgh, 266; and in Perth, 260.

Of the 31,641 Births, 2189, or 6·9 per cent., were illegitimate. In the Insular-Rural Districts, 3·8 per cent. of the Births were illegitimate; in the Large Town Districts, 5·9; in the Principal Town Districts, 6·4; in the Small Town Districts, 6·8; and in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 9·2.

A comparative statement of the rate of illegitimacy in the Divisions and Counties of Scotland will be found in Tables I. and II. From Table I. it will be seen that the rate of illegitimacy was highest in the North-Eastern and Southern Divisions; while from Table II. it will be found that in nine of the Counties the rate of illegitimacy was over 10 per cent. The highest rate in the Counties occurred in Caithness, viz., 16·0 per cent.; and the lowest in Shetland, 2·6 per cent.

Of the 31,641 Births, 16,075 were of males, and 15,566 of females, being at the rate of 103 males for every 100 females. 10,773 Births were registered during January, or at the rate of 348 daily; 9512 during February, or 340 daily; and 11,356 during March, or 366 daily.

DEATHS.

The Deaths of 20,341 persons were registered in Scotland during the quarter, being at the annual rate of 194 for every ten thousand of estimated population, or 1·94 per cent.

The number of Deaths registered in England and Wales during the quarter was 151,013, being at the annual rate of 195 for every ten thousand of estimated population.

In the Principal Town Districts the Death-rate for every ten thousand persons was 210; in the Large Town Districts, 201; in the Small Town

Districts, 184; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 174; and in the Insular-Rural Districts, 161.

The Death-rate in Glasgow for every ten thousand persons was 225 ; in Paisley, and in Perth, 224 ; in Greenock, 221 ; in Edinburgh, 201 ; in Dundee, 198 ; in Aberdeen, 196 ; and in Leith, 178.

Of the 20,341 Deaths, 10,102 were of males, and 10,239 of females. 6569 Deaths were registered during January, or 212 daily ; 5970 during February, or 213 daily ; and 7802 during March, or 252 daily.

MARRIAGES.

7293 Marriages were registered in Scotland during the quarter, being at the rate of 70 for every ten thousand persons, or 0·70 per cent.

Marriages occurred in the Principal Town Districts at the annual rate of 84 for every ten thousand persons ; in the Large Town Districts at the rate of 75 ; in the Small Town Districts at the rate of 64 ; in the Mainland-Rural Districts at the rate of 47 ; and in the Insular-Rural Districts at the rate of 48.

In Perth the annual Marriage rate for every ten thousand persons was 102 ; in Glasgow, 93 ; in Paisley, 90 ; in Greenock, 84 ; in Aberdeen, 81 ; in Edinburgh, 73 ; in Dundee, 72 ; and in Leith, 71.

4045 Marriages were registered during January, or at the rate of 130 daily ; 1602 during February, or 57 daily ; and 1646 during March, or 53 daily.

INCREASE OF POPULATION AND EMIGRATION.

The number of Births for the quarter being 31,641, and that of Deaths 20,341, the natural increase of the population, not allowing for changes caused by emigration or immigration, was 11,300. No reliable estimate of the number of immigrants can be formed, but with regard to emigrants it is found from Returns furnished by the Board of Trade that for the quarter these amounted to 36,323, of whom 16,992 were English, 2963 Scottish, 3894 Irish, 11,655 Foreigners, and 819 whose nationality was not distinguished, but of whom 68 may be assumed to be Scottish. If then 2963+68, the number of Scottish emigrants, be deducted from the number representing the excess of Births over Deaths, the remainder, viz., 8269 is the probable increase of the population for the quarter.

DISEASES IN THE ABOVE PRINCIPAL TOWNS.

About 36 per cent. of the population of Scotland being resident in these towns, it may be assumed that diseases prevailing in them will also be found to a corresponding extent throughout the country.

The total deaths in these towns amounted to 2620 in January, 2437 in February, and 3162 in March; and of these 86 in January, 80 in February, and 134 in March were ill-defined or not specified.

Miasmatic Diseases caused 227 deaths in January, or 1·70 per thousand of estimated population; 268 in February, or 2·23 per thousand; and 347 in March, or 2·60 per thousand.

Measles caused 50 deaths in January, or 0·38 per thousand of estimated population; 59 in February, or 0·49; and 91 in March, or 0·68. To Scarlet Fever were attributed 40 deaths in January, or 0·30 per thousand; 37 in February, or 0·31; and 36 in March, or 0·27. Hooping-Cough caused 87 deaths in January, or 0·65 per thousand; 87 in February, or 0·72; and 100 in March, or 0·75. To Diphtheria were ascribed 20 deaths in January, or 0·15 per thousand; 23 in February, or 0·18; and 20 in March, or 0·15. Fevers were the cause of 11 deaths in January, or 0·08 per thousand; 26 in February, or 0·22; and 20 in March, or 0·15.

Diarrhoea and Dysentery caused 47 deaths in January, or 0·35 per thousand of estimated population; 39 in February, or 0·32; and 33 in March, or 0·25.

Venereal Diseases caused 15 deaths in January, 16 in February, and 16 in March.

Intemperance caused 5 deaths in January, 2 in February, and 9 in March.

To Constitutional Diseases were ascribed 459 deaths in January, 490 in February, and 603 in March; and of these 106 in January, 99 in February, and 122 in March were from Cancer. 232, or 1·74 per thousand of estimated population, died in January from Phthisis; 261, or 2·17 per thousand in February, and 302, or 2·27 per thousand in March.

From Developmental Diseases there resulted 191 deaths in January, 175 deaths in February, and 218 deaths in March.

To Diseases of the Nervous System were attributed 329 deaths in January, 277 in February, and 357 in March.

Diseases of the Respiratory System caused 608 deaths in January, 457 in February, and 706 in March; and of these, 10 in January, 8 in February, and 10 in March, were from Croup; 278 in January, 195 in February, and 347 in March from Bronchitis; and 253 in January, 193 in February, and 271 in March from Pneumonia.

From Diseases of the Digestive System there resulted 168 deaths in January, 187 in February, and 196 in March.

To Diseases of the Urinary System were ascribed 70 deaths in January, 75 in February, and 71 in March.

Parturition, or conditions in connection therewith (including Puerperal Fever), caused 15 deaths in January, 14 in February, and 19 in March.

To Violent Causes were attributed 117 deaths in January, 92 in February, and 115 in March.

WEATHER.

The following remarks on the weather of the quarter are extracted from the Meteorological Returns which appear in the Registrar-General's Monthly Reports :—

January was characterised by a very high mean barometric pressure, accompanied with an unusually low monthly range; a mean temperature higher than any that has hitherto occurred in January, with nearly the average daily range of temperature; a low, mean humidity; a small rainfall, falling on two days fewer than the average; and an extraordinary excess of W. and S.W. winds, these respectively two and five days in excess of the average of these directions.

February was characterised by a very low mean barometric pressure, with a monthly range also very low; a mean temperature nearly half a degree, and a mean daily range nearly a degree above the average; an exceptionally low mean humidity, being the third lowest recorded during the past forty-two years, the absolutely lowest being 78 in 1895, and the next 79 in 1858; a mean rainfall under the average falling on one day more than the average; a quite unusual excess of westerly, and deficiency of easterly winds, blowing with a force only once exceeded since 1856, viz., in 1868, when it reached the high figure of 3·57 lbs. to the square foot.

March was characterised by a rather high barometric pressure, with an unusually low monthly range; a mean temperature nearly half a degree above the average, with a mean daily range also about half a degree above the average; a rather low humidity; a very low mean rainfall, falling on one day less than the average, and two days' excess of westerly and one of northerly winds, blowing with greater force than usual.

The mean height of the barometric column, reduced to sea-level and 32° Fahr., was 30·078 inches in January, 29·717 inches in February, and 29·890 inches in March. The mean temperature for the quarter was 40°·2, being 2°·2 above the average mean temperature for the quarter during the last ten years. The mean temperature during January was 42°·9, during February, 38°·2, and during March, 39°·6. The absolute highest temperature was 60°·0 in January, 59°·0 in February, and 61°·0 in March; the absolute lowest being 22°·5 in January, 2°·5 in February, and 8°·5 in March. Rain fell on 16 days in January, on 18 in February, and on 16 in March; the mean depth being 3·14 inches in January, 3·90 in February, and 2·27 in March. Easterly winds blew on 3 days in January, on 2 days in February, and on 7 days in March. Westerly winds blew on 22 days in January, on 20 days in February, and on 14 days in March. Northerly winds blew on 4 days in January, on 9 days in February, and on 12 days in March. Southerly winds blew on 14 days in January, on 7 days in February, and on 7 days in March.

Districts containing Parliamentary and Royal Burghs are printed in capitals, thus—EDINBURGH. Districts containing Towns of 2000 Inhabitants and upwards are printed in small capitals, thus—CARLUKE.
N.B.—An asterisk * is prefixed to those Districts which have different names from the Parishes in which they are situated, or are comprised of more, or parts of more than one Parish, and the component parts of these Districts will be found on page 46.
 A dagger † is prefixed to those Districts which consist of only a part of the Civil Parish of the same name.

METEOROLOGICAL REPORT

FOR THE MONTHS OF

JANUARY, FEBRUARY, MARCH.

NOTES ON THE NUMERICAL RETURNS OF SCOTTISH METEOROLOGY
FOR THE QUARTER ENDING 31st MARCH 1898.

By Dr BUCHAN, under the Direction of the Council of the Scottish Meteorological Society.

THESE returns are founded on the observations made, morning and evening, at 67 of the Stations of the Scottish Meteorological Society, and have been prepared from the Observers' separate schedules.

From the individual results for each station, the following collective results have been obtained, assuming them to have been equally well observed, and to represent the whole country :—

COLLECTED RETURNS FOR ALL THE ACCEPTED STATIONS OF THE SCOTTISH METEOROLOGICAL SOCIETY, HAVING A MEAN LATITUDE = 56° 33' N.; MEAN LONGITUDE = 3° 45' W.; AND MEAN ELEVATION = 279 Feet.

And when these results are compared with the averages of 1856–95, during the same months, they show the following characteristics and differences.

JANUARY 1898—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 30·078 inches ; greater than the average of 1856–95 by 0·298 inch.

Monthly Range, 1·182 inch ; less by 0·457 inch.

Mean Temperature, 42°·9 ; greater by 5°·8.

Mean Daily Range, 9°·5 ; greater by 0°·3.

Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 56°·7 ; greater by 7°·8.

Do. at Night, 34°·3 ; greater by 6°·0.

Mean Humidity, 85 ; less by 2·7.

Rain, Number of Days, 16 ; less by 1 day.

Rain, Depth in Inches, 3·14 ; less by 0·76 inch.

Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 2·65 lbs. ; greater by 0·50 lb.

Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 2 to 16, and N. to S. as 3 to 9 ; in place of E. to W. as 5 to 11, and N. to S. as 4 to 9.

Hours of Sunshine, 36 ; less by 18 hours.

Mean Amount of Cloud, 7·1 ; greater by 0·44.

FEBRUARY 1898—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 29·717 inches; less than the average of 1856–95 by 0·136 inch.

Monthly Range, 1·170 inch; less by 0·314 inch.

Mean Temperature, 38°·2; less by 0°·2.

Mean Daily Range, 10°·9; greater by 0°·8.

JANUARY 1898—

The weather of JANUARY 1898 was thus characterised by a very high barometric pressure, accompanied with an unusually low monthly range; a mean temperature higher than any hitherto recorded for January, with nearly the average daily range of temperature; a very low mean humidity, the only lower mean being 79 in 1895; a rather small rainfall, falling on one day fewer than usual; and seven days' excess above the average of S.W. winds, and blowing with a force considerably above the average.

The mean barometric pressure was 30·078 inches, being 0·298 inch above the average. Pressure was relatively much greater in the south than in the north, and a little greater in the west than in the east, resulting in an extraordinary prevalence of very strong west-south-westerly winds. In Wigtownshire the excess of pressure was 0·330 inch, whereas at North Uist it was only 0·143 inch.

The mean temperature was 42°·9, or 5°·8 above the average, the excess being equally distributed between the days and the nights. The next highest mean January temperature since 1856 was 41°·2 in 1882, or 1°·7 lower than last January. For Edinburgh the mean was 44°·6, the next highest there for the past 134 years being 43°·8 in 1796, 42°·1 in 1846, and 42°·0 in 1882. This excess of temperature was decidedly greater at southern than at northern stations, and also at inland than at coast stations. The absolutely highest temperature was 60°·0, on the 19th, at Gordon Castle, and the lowest, 22°·5, on the 5th, at Dalnaspidal. These are unusually high maximum and minimum temperatures for the month; indeed as regards the minimum of 22°·5 no higher minimum temperature for all Scotland has been previously recorded. Another notable feature of the temperature is that at fourteen of the stations it did not fall below freezing.

The mean rainfall was 3·14 inches, or 20 per cent. under the average. Its distribution over Scotland was extremely unequal. Thus everywhere south of the Grampians it was under the average, the amounts collected over large breadths varying from one-half to one-fourth part of the average. On the other hand the amounts were above the average on the south shore of the Moray Firth, along the Caledonian Canal from Inverness to Loch Linnhe, and in Orkney and Shetland, the greatest excess above the average being 100 per cent. at Deerness and 50 per cent. at Fort-William and Fort-Augustus. At the Ben Nevis observatory 27·08 inches of rain fell, and the daily amounts twelve times exceeded an inch.

FEBRUARY 1898—

The weather of FEBRUARY 1898 was thus characterised by a very low mean barometric pressure, with a low monthly range; a mean temperature very little under the average, with a mean daily range nearly a degree above the average; an unusually low humidity, there having been previously only one lower, viz., 77 in 1895; a mean rainfall, above the average, falling on three days more than the average; a very great excess of westerly winds, south-west being one day, west four days, and north-west two days in excess of the average; blowing with a mean strength greater than any previously recorded in February.

The mean barometric pressure was 29·717 inches, or 0·136 inch under the average. It was 0·037 inch under the average at the Mull of Galloway, and 0·310 inch at North Unst; 0·073 inch at Skerryvore, and 0·161 inch at the Isle of May, being thus much more than the average in the north than in the south, and in the east than in the west. Hence very steep mean gradients were formed for very strong westerly winds.

The mean temperature was 38°·2, or 0°·2 under the average, the days being 0°·2 above and the nights 0°·5 below the average. Its distribution was very unequal. It was under the average to the north of a line drawn from Skerryvore through Glencarron to Kinnaird Head, and thence at all strictly coast stations southward to the Tweed, the deficiency being, in general, about a degree. In all other parts of Scotland, temperature was above the average, the greatest excess, about 1°·5, being in the south-western counties. The absolutely highest was 59°·0 on the 1st at Duns Castle, and 2°·5 on the 24th at Braemar, the Black Bulb being -1°·0 at Braemar on the same day.

The mean rainfall was 3·90 inches, or 27 per cent. above the average. On the eastern side of the watershed from Kinnaird Head to the Cheviots, the rainfall was under the average, the greatest deficiency, fully half the average, occurring from the South Esk in Forfarshire to the Tweed. Everywhere else in Scotland, except at a very few isolated stations, it was above the average, and in many places in the north and west very largely so. Thus the percentages above the average were 175 at Stromness; 152 at Barrahead; 146 at Kirkwall; and more than double the average at Deerness, Thurso, Fearn, Fort-Augustus, and Turnberry Castle. At several stations the absolute amounts were very large, being 15·22 inches at Glenquoich, more than 10 inches at Lochbuie, Fort-William, and Glencarron; whilst at the Ben Nevis observatory, 30·09 inches were collected. At western stations, the only generally fair days were from the 21st to the 24th, but at eastern stations, the number of rainless days was considerable.

MARCH 1898—

Thus the weather of MARCH 1898 was characterised by a barometric pressure a little above the average, with a very low monthly range; a mean temperature very nearly the average, with a range considerably above it; a very low mean humidity; a mean rainfall somewhat less than the average, falling on one day more than the average; and a greater prevalence of northerly winds.

The mean barometric pressure was 29·890 inches, being 0·064 inch above the average. The excess was greater at western and southern than at eastern and northern stations, resulting in a greater northing in the winds and a drier and clearer atmosphere.

The mean temperature was 39°·6, or 0°·2 above the average, the days being 0°·6 above, but the nights 0°·2 under the average. To the north of a line from Wick to Stornoway, and to the south of a line from Ayr to Berwick temperature was under the average—very slightly in the north, but in the south nearly a degree. But in the intermediate districts, which included nearly the whole of Scotland, temperature was above the average, the excess over considerable districts being fully a degree. The times of lowest temperature were the first week and the last week of the month. The absolutely highest temperature was 61°·0 on the 17th at Peterhead, and the lowest 8°·5 on the 8th at Braemar.

The mean rainfall was 2·27 inches, or 19 per cent. under the average. The rainfall was under the average to the south of a line from Ardnamurchan to Kinnaird Head, but above it to the north of the same line, or over that part of Scotland most open to the northerly winds which prevailed. Over districts in the north-west the excess was above 50 per cent.; whereas over wide areas south of the Grampians, the amounts collected generally were only from one-fourth to one-half the average. Heavy rains fell in the west Highlands from the 16th to the 18th, the amounts on these three days being 4·54 inches at Glencarron, 3·81 inches at Fort-William, and 3·95 inches at Corran. On the 18th, 6·09 inches fell at the Ben Nevis observatory. The brilliant aurora of the 15th was very widely observed.

REGISTRARS' NOTES.

IN compliance with the following Instructions, many of the Registrars have appended remarks to their Returns, from which the subjoined Notes have been selected. The Registrars alone must be considered responsible for the opinions which they express.

INSTRUCTIONS TO REGISTRARS.

"If, at any time, the Births (whether legitimate or illegitimate), the Deaths, or the Marriages registered during the Quarter have been above or below the average, here state what you consider to be the cause, and whether epidemics, such as Measles, Typhus, Cholera, etc., have prevailed in the District; or if there is any other fact in the character of the Weather, Sanitary or Social Arrangements, Movement of the Population, etc., which will account for the circumstance."

The Figures refer to the Numbers of the Districts in the preceding Tables.

I. NORTHERN DIVISION.

1. SHETLAND.

2. DELTING. — Scarlet Fever (generally of a mild type) and Hooping-Cough, very prevalent throughout the parish, also some cases of Measles.

2. ORKNEY.

14. DEERNES. — As a matter of convenience, the marriages of residents in Deerness are usually celebrated in Kirkwall.

19. HOLM AND PAPLAY. — Neither births nor marriages registered during the quarter, which is rather unusual, but for this no cause can be assigned.

3. CAITHNESS.

36. DUNNET. — Three fishermen belonging to Thurso were drowned in Dunnet Bay in consequence of their boat being swamped during a squall. One of the other deaths was that of a man aged 96 years.

41. THURSO. — Of the twenty-two deaths recorded, twelve were of persons whose respective ages ranged from 73 to 99 years.

II. NORTH-WESTERN DIVISION.

5. ROSS AND CROMARTY.

Mainland.

68. KILLEARNAN. — A mild form of Measles appeared in a part of the parish in the beginning of March, and spread very rapidly among the young. One death in consequence.

71a (1). KINCARDINE. — The three deaths in January were of females aged 96, 95, and 83 years respectively. Influenza has been, and is still very prevalent.

ERRATUM.

19. HOLM AND PAPLAY.—For marriages read deaths.

82. TAIN.—Of the thirteen deaths registered, two were of persons aged respectively 94 and 97 years.

Insular.

86a. BARVAS.—Hooping-cough prevalent, and caused twelve deaths.

6. INVERNESS.

Mainland.

95. DAVIOT AND DUNLIGHTY.—The only death was that of a person 65 years of age. A few cases of Measles of a mild type occurred.

99 (2). LOCHABER.—Deaths above the average, four navvies having perished from cold and exposure while sleeping outside under the influence of drink.

102. KINGUSSIE AND INSH.—Two deaths of children were caused by Measles, and one of a young lad by Scarlet Fever.

103. KIRKHILL.—Hooping-cough prevalent, and one death therefrom. A slight outbreak of Measles also occurred, but owing to careful isolation did not become wide spread.

Insular.

119. STRATH.—Of the fourteen deaths registered, nine were of persons over 70 years of age, and of these three were aged respectively 83, 90, and 92 years.

III. NORTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

7. NAIRN.

121. AULDEARN.—An outbreak of Scarlet Fever has occurred in the Moyness district.

10. ABERDEEN.

173. AUCHTERLESS.—Deaths rather over the average. Influenza prevalent, and caused four of the six deaths registered. With one exception the deaths are all of old people, their respective ages ranging from 73 to 89 years.

178. CAIRNEY.—Several cases of Scarlet Fever of a mild type occurred during March, one of which proved fatal.

202. HUNTLY.—Two of the deaths were of persons from neighbouring parishes, who were patients in the Cottage Hospital.

203. INSCH.—Scarlet Fever prevalent, but most of the cases were removed to the district hospital. Births and deaths much under the average.

218. LONGSIDE.—Deaths much above the average, those recorded being chiefly of very young children or very old persons. Winter has been mild but temperature variable. Influenza very prevalent, but not fatal in its results.

222a. MIDMAR.—One of the deaths recorded in March was of a woman 98 years of age.

227b. NEW PITSLIGO.—Measles epidemic during February and March, and five deaths of infants resulted therefrom. The village schools were closed for four weeks in consequence.

231 (1). EAST PETERCULTER (LANDWARD).—One of the three deaths was that of a man aged 95 years.

231 (2). WEST PETERCULTER.—Three of the five deaths were of persons aged respectively 71, 83, and 95 years.

239. SLAINS.—Of the three deaths registered, that in January was of a male whose body was cast up on the shore.

* The actual number of Districts is 1071—many Parishes and Burghs having been divided into two or more Districts for the purpose of Registration. Thus Edinburgh and Glasgow, to each of which only a single number is assigned in the Tables, consist of 6 and 14 Districts respectively. In forming the alphabetical arrangement the principle adopted has been to place compound names in the order in which they are pronounced.

BIRTHS.

34,444 Births were registered in Scotland during the quarter, being at the annual rate of 325 for every ten thousand of the estimated population, or 3.25 per cent.

The Birth-rate for every ten thousand persons in the Principal Town Districts was 342; in the Large Town Districts, 350; in the Small Town Districts, 328; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 290; and in the Insular-Rural Districts, 201.

In Leith the Birth-rate for every ten thousand persons was 363 ; in Glasgow, 359 ; in Greenock, 354 ; in Aberdeen, 338 ; in Paisley, 335 ; in Dundee, 322 ; in Edinburgh, 287 ; and in Perth, 276.

Of the 34,444 Births, 2231, or 6·5 per cent., were illegitimate. In the Large Town Districts, 4·7 per cent. of the Births were illegitimate ; in the Insular-Rural Districts, 5·9 ; in the Principal Town Districts, 6·2 ; in the Small Town Districts, 6·9 ; and in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 8·0.

A comparative statement of the rate of illegitimacy in the Divisions and Counties of Scotland will be found in Tables I. and II. From Table I. it will be seen that the rate of illegitimacy was highest in the North-Eastern and Southern Divisions ; while Table II. shows that in five of the Counties the rate of illegitimacy was over 10 per cent. The highest rate in any of the Counties occurred in Wigtown, viz., 16·9 per cent. ; and the lowest in Dumbarton, viz., 2·0 per cent.

Of the 34,444 Births, 17,396 were of males, and 17,048 of females, being at the rate of 102 males for every 100 females. 11,418 Births were registered during April, or 381 daily ; 11,674 during May, or 376 daily ; and 11,352 during June, or 378 daily.

In Dundee the Death-rate for every ten thousand persons was 237 ; in Glasgow, 227 ; in Perth, 220 ; in Paisley, 215 ; in Greenock, 212 ; in Edinburgh, 198 ; in Aberdeen, 189 ; and in Leith, 177.

Of the 20,493 Deaths, 10,270 were of males, and 10,223 of females. 7248 Deaths were recorded during April, or at the rate of 242 daily ; 6978 during May, or 225 daily ; and 6267 during June, or 209 daily.

MARRIAGES.

8162 Marriages were registered in Scotland during the quarter, being at the rate of 77 for every ten thousand of estimated population, or 0·77 per cent.

In the Principal Town Districts Marriages occurred at the rate of 98 for every ten thousand persons ; in the Large Town Districts at the rate of 72 ; in the Small Town Districts at the rate of 66 ; in the Mainland-Rural Districts at the rate of 58 ; and in the Insular-Rural Districts at the rate of 24.

The Marriage rate for every ten thousand persons in Edinburgh was 115 ; in Glasgow, 105 ; in Aberdeen, 95 ; in Leith, 95 ; in Paisley, 93 ; in Perth, 81 ; in Dundee, 78 ; and in Greenock, 73.

2215 Marriages were registered during April, being at the rate of 74 daily ; 1068 during May, or 34 daily ; and 4879 during June, or 163 daily.

INCREASE OF POPULATION AND EMIGRATION.

The number of Births for the quarter being 34,444, and that of the Deaths 20,493, the natural increase of the population, not allowing for changes caused by emigration or immigration, was 13,951. No reliable statement of the number of immigrants can be made, but in respect of emigrants it is found from Returns furnished by the Board of Trade that the number of these for the quarter was 55,217, of whom 21,121 were English, 3487 Scottish, 13,832 Irish, 16,196 Foreigners, and 581 persons whose nationality was not distinguished, but of whom 37 may be assumed to be Scottish. If then  $3487 + 37$ , the number of Scottish emigrants, be deducted from the number representing the excess of Births over Deaths, 10427 remains as the probable increase of the population for the quarter.

DISEASES IN THE ABOVE PRINCIPAL TOWNS.

About 36 per cent. of the population of Scotland being resident in these towns, it may be assumed that diseases prevailing in them will also be found to a corresponding extent in the country generally.

The total deaths in these towns amounted to 2906 in April, 2834 in May, and 2685 in June; and of these 116 in April, 91 in May, and 88 in June were not specified or ill-defined.

Miasmatic Diseases caused 390 deaths in April, or 3.03 per thousand of the estimated population; 381 in May, or 2.86 per thousand; and 395 in June, or 3.06 per thousand.

Measles caused 104 deaths in April, or 0.81 per thousand of the estimated population; 133 in May, or 1.00 per thousand; and 162 in June, or 1.26 per thousand. From Scarlet Fever there resulted 30 deaths in April, or 0.23 per thousand; 34 in May, or 0.26 per thousand; and 25 in June, or 0.19 per thousand. Hooping-Cough was the cause of 140 deaths in April, or 1.09 per thousand; 133 in May, or 1.00 per thousand; and 151 in June, or 1.17 per thousand. To Diphtheria were attributed 21 deaths in April, or 0.16 per thousand; 16 in May, or 0.12; and 6 in June, or 0.05. Fevers caused 19 deaths in April, or 0.15 per thousand; 29 in May, or 0.22; and 28 in June, or 0.22.

Diarrhoea and Dysentery caused 42 deaths in April, or 0.33 per thousand of the estimated population; 38 in May, or 0.29; and 55 in June, or 0.43.

Venereal Diseases were the cause of 10 deaths in April, of 8 in May, and of 11 in June.

To Intemperance were ascribed 10 deaths in April, 11 in May, and 11 in June.

Constitutional Diseases were the cause of 538 deaths in April, of 579 in May, and of 546 in June; and of these 99 in April, 115 in May, and 106 in June were from Cancer; and from Phthisis, 273, or 2·12 of the estimated population, succumbed in April; 294, or 2·21, in May; and 293, or 2·27, in June.

To Developmental Diseases were attributed 200 deaths in April, 218 in May, and 182 in June.

To Diseases of the Nervous System were ascribed 320 deaths in April, 321 in May, and 303 in June.

Diseases of the Respiratory System caused 619 deaths in April, 516 in May, and 459 in June; and of these, 4 in April, 2 in May, and 1 in June, were from Croup; 270 in April, 201 in May, and 152 in June from Bronchitis; and 278 in April, 264 in May, and 267 in June from Pneumonia.

Diseases of the Digestive System caused 166 deaths in April, 179 in May, and 186 in June.

From Diseases of the Urinary System there resulted 84 deaths in April, 72 in May, and 60 in June.

Parturition, or conditions in connection therewith (including Puerperal Fever), caused 21 deaths in April, 26 in May, and 19 in June.

To Violent Causes were attributed 95 deaths in April, 106 in May, and 100 in June.

WEATHER.

The following remarks on the weather of the quarter are extracted from the Meteorological Returns which appear in the Registrar-General's Monthly Reports:—

April was characterised by a rather low barometric pressure, with a very low monthly range; a remarkably high mean temperature with a mean daily range decidedly under the average; an average humidity; a mean rainfall, larger than any that has occurred in April since 1880, and falling on four days more than the average; and five days excess of southerly winds blowing with the average force of the month.

May was characterised by a rather low barometric pressure, with an unusually large monthly range, the range being only exceeded by the Mays of 1877 and 1881; a mean temperature fully a degree under the average, with a mean daily range slightly above it; a low humidity; a mean rainfall, a little above the average, falling on 15 days, or one day above the average.

June was characterised by a mean barometric pressure, slightly under the average with a rather large monthly range ; a mean temperature nearly the average, with a mean daily range considerably above the average ; a mean humidity about the average ; a mean rainfall, less than the average, falling on the average number of days ; and two days' excess of southerly winds.

The mean height of the barometric column, reduced to sea-level and 32° Fahr., was 29·798 inches in April, 29·830 inches in May, and 29·927 inches in June. The mean temperature for the quarter was 49°·2, being 0°·4 below the average mean temperature for the quarter during the last ten years. The mean temperature during April was 45°·6, during May, 47°·7, and during June, 54°·4. The absolute highest temperature was 70°·0 in April, 74°·0 in May, and 80°·0 in June ; the absolute lowest temperature being 19°·0 in April, 22°·0 in May, and 31°·0 in June. Rain fell on 17 days in April, on 15 days in May, and on 14 days in June ; the mean depth being 3·61 inches in April, 2·62 inches in May, and 2·32 inches in June. Winds with an easterly point blew on 10 days in April, on 10 days in May, and on 8 days in June. Winds with a westerly point blew on 13 days in April, on 14 days in May, and on 14 days in June. Northerly winds blew on 4 days in April, on 12 days in May, and on 8 days in June. Southerly winds blew on 15 days in April, on 7 days in May, and on 11 days in June.

N.B.—Districts containing Parliamentary and Royal Burghs are printed in capitals, thus—EDINBURGH. Districts containing Towns of 2000 Inhabitants and upwards are printed in small capitals, thus—CARLUKE. An asterisk, “*,” is prefixed to those Districts which have different names from the Parishes in which they are situated, or which comprise more, or parts of more than one Parish. The component parts of these Districts will be found on page 45.

A dagger “†” is prefixed to those Districts which consist of only a part of the Civil Parish of the same name.

† Returns not received. The numbers given are estimated from those for the corresponding quarter of the last three years.

METEOROLOGICAL REPORT

FOR THE MONTHS OF APRIL, MAY, JUNE.

1898.

DIAGRAM
 SHOWING THE STATIONS
 of the
 SCOTTISH METEOROLOGICAL SOCIETY.
 Reported to the Registrar General of Scotland.

NOTES ON THE NUMERICAL RETURNS OF SCOTTISH METEOROLOGY
FOR THE QUARTER ENDING 30TH JUNE 1898.

By Dr BUCHAN, under the Direction of the Council of the Scottish Meteorological Society.

THESE returns are founded on the observations made, morning and evening, at 67 of the Stations of the Scottish Meteorological Society, and have been prepared from the Observers' separate schedules.

From the individual results for each station, the following collective results have been obtained, assuming them to have been equally well observed, and to represent the whole country :—

And when these results are compared with the averages of 1856–95, during the same months, they show the following characteristics and differences.

APRIL 1898—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 29.798 inches; less than the average of 1856–95 by 0.095 inch.

Monthly Range, 0.957 inch; less by 0.257 inch.

Mean Temperature, 45° 6'; greater by 1° 5'.

Mean Daily Range, 13° 0'; less by 1° 4'.

Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 79° 4'; greater by 4° 2'.

Do. at Night, 35° 2'; greater by 3° 1'.

Mean Humidity, 82; being the average.

Rain, Number of Days, 17; greater by 5 days.

Rain, Depth in Inches, 3.61; greater by 1.47 inch.

Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 2.22 lbs.; greater by 0.46 lb.

Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 7 to 10, and N. to S. as 3 to 10; in place of E. to

W. as 8 to 8, and N. to S. as 6 to 7.

Hours of Sunshine, 107; less by 48 hours.

Mean Amount of Cloud, 6.8; greater by 0.58.

MAY 1898—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 29·830 inches; less than the average of 1856–95 by 0·103 inch.

Monthly Range, 1·469 inch; greater by 0·400 inch.

Mean Temperature, 47°·7; less by 1°·3.

Mean Daily Range, 15°·1; less by 0°·3.

Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 93°·9; greater by 10°·7.

Do. at Night, 34°·5; less by 1°·7.

Mean Humidity, 79; less by 1·0.

Rain, Number of Days, 15; greater by 2 days.

Rain, Depth in Inches, 2·62; greater by 0·34 inch.

Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 1·80 lb.; greater by 0·25 lb.

Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 8 to 10; and N. to S. as 8 to 5; instead of E. to W. as 8 to 8, and N. to S. as 6 to 6.

Hours of Sunshine, 175; less by 12 hours.

Mean Amount of Cloud, 6·4; greater by 0·22.

JUNE 1898—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 29·927 inches; less than the average of 1856–95 by 0·014 inch.

Monthly Range, 1·044 inch; greater by 0·089 inch.

Mean Temperature, 54°·4; less by 0°·4.

Mean Daily Range, 15°·8; being the average.

Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 102°·3; greater by 10°·9.

Do. at Night, 42°·5; greater by 0°·7.

Mean Humidity, 80; being the average.

Rain, Number of Days, 14; greater by 1 day.

Rain, Depth in Inches, 2·32; less by 0·16 inch.

Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 1·44 lb.; being the average.

Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 6 to 10; and N. to S. as 6 to 7; instead of E. to W. as 6 to 9, and N. to S. as 5 to 7.

Hours of Sunshine, 170; less by 44 hours.

Mean Amount of Cloud, 6·6; greater by 0·47.

APRIL 1898—

Thus the weather of APRIL 1898 was characterised by a rather low barometric pressure, with a particularly low monthly range; a high mean temperature, with a singularly small mean daily range; an average humidity; a mean rainfall, greater than has been recorded in April since 1872, falling on five days in excess of the average; and seven days' excess of winds, from S.E., S., S.W., and W., blowing with a force much in excess of the average.

The mean barometric pressure was 29·798 inches, or 0·095 inch under the average. The diminution of pressure from the average was much greater at western than at eastern stations. Thus it was 0·071 inch at Peterhead, whereas at Monach Lighthouse it amounted to 0·157 inch, a geographical distribution which fully accounts for the extraordinary prevalence of southerly winds and high temperature noted above.

The mean temperature was 45°·6, or 1°·5 above the average, the days being 0°·8 and the nights 2°·3 in excess. Thus the high temperature was principally occasioned not by any excess of sunshine, which was 48 hours under the average, but by the unwonted prevalence of winds from the warm south. The mean temperature but slightly exceeded the average at coast stations, from the Firth of Tay to Kinnaird Head and in Shetland; whereas on the west side of the watershed and over the out-lying Hebrides, temperature was from 2°·0 to 3°·0 above the average. The absolutely highest temperature was 70°·0 on the 22nd, at Aberlour, and the lowest, 19°·0, on the 5th, at Stobo.

The mean rainfall was 3·61 inches, or 68 per cent. above the average. This rainfall was distributed over the country with very great irregularity. In comparatively restricted districts in Mid-Lothian, Galloway, and in the counties of Ayr, Inverness, and Elgin, it was under the average, the amounts at Ardwell and Inverness being respectively 40 and 33 per cent. under the average. On the other hand, the amount was well nigh unprecedentedly large at the eastern stations, situated between the lower reaches of the Tay and the Don, the excess above their averages being 200 per cent. at Lednathie, 220 per cent. at Montrose Asylum, and 308 per cent. at Johnstone Lodge, near Laurencekirk. This torrential rainfall, which was limited to the last four days of the month, fell with strong east south-easterly winds. On these four days there fell at Johnstone Lodge 6·47 inches.

Thus the weather of MAY 1898 was characterised by a rather low barometer, with one of the highest monthly ranges yet recorded for May ; a mean temperature  $1^{\circ}3$  under the average, with a mean daily range slightly under the average ; a mean humidity nearly the average ; a mean rainfall, a little above the average, falling on two days more than the average ; and five days excess of northerly and westerly winds.

The mean barometric pressure was 29·830 inches, or 0·103 inch less than the average. Pressure was much more below the average at eastern and northern than at western and southern stations, the amounts being 0·124 inch at Duns, and 0·127 at North Unst, as compared with 0·088 inch at Dumfries, and 0·066 inch at Monach. Gradients were thus formed for the great excess of northwesterly wind which prevailed.

The mean temperature was  $47^{\circ}7$ , or  $1^{\circ}3$  less than the average, the difference being nearly equally partitioned between the days and the nights. In the southwest from the coast of Ayrshire to Skye, the mean temperature was nearly the average ; but in the north and east and inland situations it was fully two degrees under the average at many places, the greatest deficiency being in the eastern parts of Inverness-shire and in the counties of Berwick, Roxburgh, and Peebles. The absolutely highest temperature was  $74^{\circ}0$  on the 21st at Roshven, and the lowest,  $22^{\circ}0$ , on the 14th at Stobo.

The mean rainfall was 2·62 inches, or 15 per cent. above the average. Its distribution among the stations was extremely irregular, being under the average in the counties of Berwick, Fife, the inland districts of Galloway, Lower Clydesdale, Western Perthshire, and the south of Inverness-shire. Elsewhere it was above the average. The greatest excess, fully double the average, was at Kirkwall, Deerness, Thurso, Dunrobin, Tarbetness, and Perth ; and over large breadths bordering the Moray Firth, over the Outer Hebrides, south of Argyll, and in the counties of Ayr and Wigtown, the excess amounted to half the average. Comparatively little rain fell from the 6th to the 9th, and from the 18th to the 27th.

The hours of sunshine numbered 175, being only 12 hours short of the average.

JUNE 1898—

Hence the weather of JUNE 1898 was characterised by a mean barometric pressure very little under the average, with a rather large monthly range ; a mean temperature about half a degree under the average, with a mean daily range the average ; the average mean humidity ; a mean rainfall a little under average, falling on one day more than the average ; and the direction of the wind closely approximate to the average.

The mean barometric pressure was 29·927 inches, or 0·014 inch under the average, and the distribution of the pressure over the country was normal.

The mean temperature was  $54^{\circ}4$ , or  $0^{\circ}4$  under the average, this small deficiency being equally distributed between the days and the nights. Temperature was from half a degree to fully a degree under the average to the east of a line drawn from Kelso, through Dundee to Aberlour, and to the north of a line drawn from this point through Inverness to North Uist. Over the rest of Scotland it exceeded the average, the excess at the more strictly inland stations rising to a degree. The absolutely highest temperature was  $80^{\circ}0$  on the 17th at Smeaton, and the lowest,  $31^{\circ}0$ , on the 4th at Dalnaspidal.

The mean rainfall was 2·32 inches, or 7 per cent. less than the average. Its distribution over Scotland was very irregular, being above the average in Shetland, Orkney, shores of the Pentland Firth, Outer Hebrides, the northwest of Argyll, and southwest of Ayrshire ; but elsewhere it was under the average. The deficiency was about 50 per cent. over a wide district bounded on the west by a line drawn from Dundee through Kingussie to Cromarty. On the other hand, the greatest rainfall generally was in the Outer Hebrides, where it amounted to 53 per cent. at Monach. Very little rain fell from the 8th to the 16th, and from the 27th to the end of the month. The month was remarkable for a singular absence of heavy daily falls. Thunder is reported from 24 stations, giving an average of 2 for each station.

REGISTRARS' NOTES.

IN compliance with the following Instructions, many of the Registrars have appended remarks to their Returns, from which the subjoined Notes have been selected. The Registrars alone must be considered responsible for the opinions which they express.

INSTRUCTIONS TO REGISTRARS.

“If, at any time, the Births (whether legitimate or illegitimate), the Deaths, or the Marriages registered during the Quarter have been above or below the average, here state what you consider to be the cause, and whether epidemics, such as Measles, Typhus, Cholera, etc., have prevailed in the District; or if there is any other fact in the character of the Weather, Sanitary or Social Arrangements, Movement of the Population, etc., which will account for the circumstance.”

The Figures refer to the Numbers of the Districts in the preceding Tables.

1. SHETLAND.

8. NORTHMAVINE.—Of the eleven deaths registered, nine were of persons over 70 years of age.

4. SUTHERLAND.

56. TONGUE.—Deaths in April far above the average, owing to an epidemic of Influenza, which proved fatal to many of the old people, a large proportion being of persons whose ages ranged from 70 to 86 years.

II. NORTH-WESTERN DIVISION.

5. ROSS AND CROMARTY.

Mainland.

58 (1). APPLECROSS.—Of the six persons whose deaths were recorded, three were respectively aged 97, 90, and 83 years.

6. INVERNESS.

Mainland.

92b. CANNICH.—Of the four deaths in April, two were of women aged respectively 70 and 78 years, who lost their lives through their house taking fire.

99 (2). LOCHABER.—There are at present about 250 men engaged on the Invergarry and Fort Augustus Railway, and consequently the deaths are above the average.

100. KILMORACK.—Of the ten deaths recorded, two were of persons aged respectively 92 and 84 years. Influenza prevalent in Beaully village, also a few cases of Typhoid Fever, but no deaths from either.

III. NORTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

9. BANFF.

1496. CABRACH.—The two deaths registered were of persons aged respectively 83 and 87 years.

10. ABERDEEN.

172. AUCHINDOIR. — Of the nine births registered, four are illegitimate.

178. CAIRNEY.—Scarlet Fever still lingers in the district, and one death due to that disease.

184. CRIMOND.—In consequence of a wreck of a vessel off the coast whereby eight lives were lost, the deaths are much above the average.

203. INSCH. — Scarlet Fever and Diphtheria prevalent, and three of the eight deaths were from these diseases.

211. KINELLAR.—The two deaths recorded were of widows aged respectively 91 and 84 years.

217. LOGIE-COLDSTONE AND CROMAR.—The Public School has been closed for five weeks on account of an outbreak of Measles, but none of the cases fatal.

226. NEVHILLS.—An enormous increase in marriages during June, probably the result of good trade for a year or two back.

238. SKENE.—The six deaths registered were mostly of old people, one of them being the Registrar of the parish at the age of 81 years.

239. SLAINS.—The death in May was due to accidental drowning.

243. TARVES.—Of the six deaths registered, four were of persons aged respectively 80, 85, 92, and 96 years, and the remaining two were of twins who only lived a few hours.

11. KINCARDINE.

251 (2). PORTLETHEN.—The decrease in the population of the fishing villages no doubt partly accounts for no marriages being recorded during the year.

252. BANCHORY-TERNAN.—The large increase of deaths during April and May is due to an outbreak of Influenza, and effects resulting therefrom.

259. FORDOUN.—Of the three deaths registered, two were of persons aged respectively 84 and 86 years, and the third, of a boy aged 7 years, whose death was caused by accidental drowning in the Bervie water while that river was in flood.

IV. EAST-MIDLAND DIVISION.

12. FORFAR.

281. DUN.—All the three deaths were of females, one being of a woman 83 years of age, one of a child under a year, who died from Hooping-cough, and the other was suicidal, by drowning.

13. PERTH.

328. ALYTH.—Deaths about double the average number. Of the nineteen recorded, fourteen were of persons whose respective ages ranged from 68 to 91 years.

331. BALQUHIDDER. — Death-rate unusually high. Of the seven registered, three were of persons aged respectively 77, 80, and 81 years, and two were over 60.

334. BLAIR-ATHOL.—The death in May, and one of those in June, were of navvies, working at the doubling of the Highland Line, who were killed by passing trains.

336. CALLANDER. — Death-rate normal. Of the nine registered, five were of persons aged respectively 91, 84, 82, 82, and 74 years.

373. LITTLE DUNKELD. — Of the nine deaths registered, five took place in Public Institutions and were of persons belonging to other parishes.

380. METHVEN.—Only three deaths during the quarter, and all of persons over 70 years of age. Measles prevalent since the end of May, but the number of cases is getting less.

385. MUCKART.—The ages of the two persons whose deaths were registered were 83 and 92 years respectively.

389. RATTAY. — Births and Deaths both above the average. Influenza very prevalent in April, causing half of the deaths in that month.

14. FIFE.

406. AUCHTERMUCHTY.—Hooping-cough in a mild form was for a while prevalent, but has now disappeared. Scarlatina, also of a mild form, has made its appearance in several families, and one death, that of a child 3 years of age, has been recorded from that cause.

410. BEATH.—Measles prevalent during May and June, and caused the deaths of eleven children.

420. CUPAR.—Five of the twenty-six deaths registered occurred in the Fife and Kinross Asylum.

426. DYSART.—The high death-rate in April and May was occasioned by an epidemic of Measles.

430. FLISK.—The only death registered resulted from an accident.

434. KENNOWAY.—Of the eleven deaths recorded, six were of persons advanced in life, their respective ages being 93, 82, 82, 75, 70, and 69 years. The parish is at present free from all epidemics.

16. CLACKMANNAN.

467. DOLLAR.—Of the seven deaths registered, three were of persons aged respectively 71, 79, and 81 years.

V. WEST-MIDLAND DIVISION.

17. STIRLING.

473. BÓTHKENNAR.—Measles prevalent during the quarter, and two of the deaths are from that cause.

483. KILSYTH.—Deaths greatly above the average in consequence of an outbreak of Measles.

19. ARGYLL.

Insular.

551 (2). COLL.—The Marriages of parties living in this Island generally take place in Glasgow, or somewhere on the Mainland.

VI. SOUTH-WESTERN DIVISION.

21. RENFREW.

565. HOUSTON AND KILLELLAN.—A mild form of Scarlet Fever prevalent during June, and the Schools have been closed a month earlier for the annual vacation.

569. KILMALCOLM.—An epidemic of Measles followed by Hooping-cough prevailed in the Port Glasgow portion of the parish, proving fatal in six cases.

574. PORT GLASGOW.—Death-rate very high owing to the prevalence of Measles and Hooping-cough.

22. AYR.

578 (1). AYR.—Two of the persons who died during the quarter were each aged 90 years.

601. KIRKOSWALD.—Of the seven deaths recorded, one was of a woman who was within a few days of 97 years of age, and two were of young lads accidentally drowned while sea-fishing.

613 (2). CATRINE.—Over fifty per cent. of the deaths were due to Influenza, and Pulmonary and Bronchial complaints, probably due to the cold, wet weather prevalent during a great part of the Spring.

23. LANARK.

623. BIGGAR.—Deaths above the average. There have been no epidemics, but a considerable number of very old people are included in the number recorded.

628. CAMBUSNETHAN.—Scarlet Fever and Measles prevalent. Five deaths from each.

632 (3). HAYWOOD.—Measles prevalent during the quarter.

652 (1). WESTERN DISTRICT OF OLD MONKLAND.—Deaths over the average. An epidemic of Measles accounts for nearly one-half.

VII. SOUTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

25. EDINBURGH.

691. LASSWADE.—Three of the deaths were caused by Hooping-cough.

695b. NEWCRAIGHALL.—Measles very prevalent during June, and caused five of the deaths. One death was the result of a Coal Mine Accident.

26. HADDINGTON.

704. BOLTON.—The death is that of an infant from Hooping-cough.

723. WHITEKIRK AND TYNNINGHAME.—Several cases of Scarlet Fever have occurred, but so far none fatal.

27. BERWICK.

741. FOULDEN. -- Measles prevalent during June, and in consequence the Public School was closed.

VIII. SOUTHERN DIVISION.

31. DUMFRIES.

835. KIRKMAHON.—Deaths above the average. One of the eight registered was the result of an accident.

837. (2). SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF KIRKPATRICK FLEMING.—One of the five deaths was that of a man who was fatally injured while working in a quarry.

* The actual number of Districts is 1071—many Parishes and Burghs having been divided into two or more Districts for the purpose of Registration. Thus Edinburgh and Glasgow, to each of which only a single number is assigned in the Tables, consist of 6 and 14 Districts respectively. In forming the alphabetical arrangement the principle adopted has been to place compound names in the order in which they are pronounced.

BIRTHS.

32,810 Births were registered in Scotland during the quarter, being at the annual rate of 306 for every ten thousand of the estimated population, or 3·06 per cent.

In the Principal Town Districts, the Birth-rate for every ten thousand persons was 320 ; in the Large Town Districts, and in the Small Town Districts, 317 ; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 270 ; and in the Insular-Rural Districts, 247.

The Birth-rate in Greenock for every ten thousand persons was 374; in Paisley, 328; in Glasgow, 327; in Aberdeen, 322; in Leith, 317; in Dundee, 304; in Edinburgh, 281; and in Perth, 223.

Of the 32,810 Births, 2280, or 6·9 per cent., were illegitimate. In the Insular-Rural Districts, 4·6 per cent., of the Births were illegitimate; in the Large Town Districts, 5·8; in the Principal Town Districts, 6·6; in the Small Town Districts, 6·8; and in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 9·1.

A comparative statement of the rate of illegitimacy in the Divisions and Counties of Scotland will be found in Tables I. and II. It will be seen from Table I. that the rate of illegitimacy was highest in the North-Eastern and Southern Divisions; and from Table II. that in ten of the Counties the rate of illegitimacy was over 10 per cent. The highest rate in any County occurred in Nairn, viz., 22·6 per cent.; and the lowest in Orkney, viz., 3·4 per cent.

Of the 32,810 Births, 16,809 were of males, and 16,001 of females, being at the rate of 105 males for every 100 females. 11,034 Births were registered during July, or 356 daily; 11,269 during August, or 364 daily; and 10,507 during September, or 350 daily.

In Greenock the Death-rate for every ten thousand persons was 231 ; in Paisley, 222 ; in Glasgow, 200 ; in Dundee, 196 ; in Leith, 188 ; in Edinburgh, 186 ; and in Aberdeen, and in Perth, 179.

Of the 18,553 Deaths, 9430 were of males, and 9123 of females. 5919 Deaths were registered during July, or at the rate of 191 daily ; 6374 during August, or 206 daily ; and 6260 during September, or 209 daily.

MARRIAGES.

7906 Marriages were registered in Scotland during the quarter, being at the rate of 74 for every ten thousand of the estimated population, 0·74 per cent.

Marriages occurred in the Principal Town Districts at the rate of 98 for every ten thousand of the estimated population ; in the Large Town Districts the rate was 77 ; in the Small Town Districts, 66 ; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 41 ; and in the Insular-Rural Districts, 17.

In Perth the Marriage rate per ten thousand persons was 111 ; in Aberdeen, 110 ; in Paisley, 108 ; in Edinburgh, 102 ; in Glasgow, 101 ; in Greenock, 93 ; in Dundee, 88 ; and in Leith, 74.

3783 Marriages were registered during July, being at the rate of 122 daily ; 2121 during August, or 68 daily ; and 2002 during September, or 67 daily.

INCREASE OF POPULATION AND EMIGRATION.

The Births for the quarter having numbered 32,810, and the Deaths 18,553, the natural increase of the population, not allowing for changes caused by emigration or immigration, was 14,257. No satisfactory estimate of the number of immigrants can be formed, but in respect of emigrants it is found from Returns furnished by the Board of Trade that the number of these for the quarter was 66,898, of whom 30,392, were English, 5537 Scottish, 10,841 Irish, 19,033 Foreigners, and 1095 persons whose nationality was not distinguished, but of whom 92 may be assumed to be Scottish. If then 5537 + 92, the number of Scottish emigrants, be deducted from the number representing the excess of Births over Deaths, 8628 remains as the probable increase of the population for the quarter.

DISEASES IN THE ABOVE PRINCIPAL TOWNS.

Of the whole population of Scotland, about 36 per cent. are resident in these towns, and it may be assumed that diseases prevailing in them will also be found to a corresponding extent in the country generally.

The total deaths in these towns amounted to 2473 in July, 2662 in August, and 2612 in September; and of these 105 in July, 133 in August, and 132 in September were not specified or ill-defined.

Miasmatic Diseases caused 289 deaths in July, or 2·17 per thousand of the estimated population; 249 in August, or 1·87 per thousand; and 222 in September, or 1·72 per thousand.

Measles caused 112 deaths in July, or 0·84 per thousand of the estimated population; 49 in August, or 0·37 per thousand; and 31 in September, or 0·24 per thousand. Scarlet Fever caused 31 deaths in July, or 0·23 per thousand; 31 in August, or 0·23 per thousand; and 25 in September, or 0·19 per thousand. From Hooping-Cough there resulted 101 deaths in July, or 0·76 per thousand; 111 in August or 0·83 per thousand; and 92 in September, or 0·71 per thousand. To Diphtheria were ascribed 14 deaths in July, or 0·11 per thousand; 18 in August, or 0·14 per thousand; and 19 in September, or 0·15 per thousand. Fevers caused 16 deaths in July, or 0·12 per thousand; 28 in August, or 0·21; and 46 in September, or 0·36.

Diarrhoea and Dysentery caused 105 deaths in July, or 0·79 per thousand of estimated population; 244 in August, or 1·83; and 243 in September, or 1·88.

Venereal Diseases caused 22 deaths in July, 19 in August, and 15 in September.

To Intemperance were attributed 13 deaths in July, 9 in August, and 12 in September.

From Constitutional Diseases there resulted 471 deaths in July, 475 in August, and 442 in September; and of these 92 in July, 107 in August, and 111 in September were from Cancer; and from Phthisis, 234 in July, or 1·76 per thousand of the estimated population; 217 in August, or 1·63 per thousand; and 192 in September, or 1·49 per thousand.

Developmental Diseases caused 173 deaths in July, 188 in August, and 179 in September.

From Diseases of the Nervous System there resulted 243 deaths in July, 291 in August, and 318 in September.

To Diseases of the Respiratory System were ascribed 351 deaths in July, 299 in August, and 346 in September; and of these, 9 in July, 5 in August, and 3 in September were from Croup; 141 in July, 122 in August, and 135 in September from Bronchitis; and 161 in July, 145 in August, and 174 in September from Pneumonia.

To Diseases of the Digestive System were attributed 201 deaths in July, 265 in August, and 270 in September.

Diseases of the Urinary System caused 67 deaths in July, 69 in August, and 52 in September.

Parturition, or conditions in connection therewith (including Puerperal Fever), caused 17 deaths in July, 26 in August, and 11 in September.

To Violent Causes were ascribed 106 deaths in July, 94 in August, and 92 in September.

WEATHER.

The following remarks on the weather of the quarter are extracted from the Meteorological Returns which appear in the Registrar-General's Monthly Reports:—

July was characterised by a mean barometric pressure, very largely in excess of the average, with a very small monthly range; a mean temperature about the average, with a mean daily range very large, having been exceeded during the forty-three years, only in 1868 when it was 17·2; a mean humidity extraordinarily low, nothing lower having occurred since 1857; one of the lowest mean rainfalls hitherto recorded, falling on six days fewer than the average; a four days excess of north-westerly winds, blowing with a force considerably above the average.

August was characterised by a mean barometric pressure a little above the average, with a monthly range a little under the average; a mean temperature about a degree above the average, with a mean daily range very considerably above the average ; a mean humidity slightly under the average ; a mean rainfall fully the average of August, falling on one day more than the average ; and a three days' excess of southerly winds, blowing with a force greater than any recorded for the month since 1886.

September was characterised by a mean barometric pressure considerably above the average, with an exceedingly small monthly range, no smaller having been previously recorded, except in September 1894 ; a mean temperature very largely in excess of the average, with a mean daily range correspondingly large ; a mean humidity nearly the average ; a mean rainfall, nearly the average, but falling on two days fewer than the average ; four days' excess of southerly winds, with the lowest mean force hitherto recorded, except in 1876, when it was slightly smaller.

The mean height of the barometric column, reduced to sea-level and 32° Fahr., was 30·055 inches in July, 29·881 inches in August, and 29·976 inches in September. The mean temperature for the quarter was 56°·6, being 1°·5 above the average mean temperature for the quarter during the last ten years. The mean temperature during July was 56°·5, during August, 57°·3, and during September, 56°·0. The absolute highest temperature was 83°·0 in July, 83°·0 in August, and 86°·2 in September ; the absolute lowest temperature being 32°·0 in July, 32°·3 in August, and 26°·0 in September. Rain fell on 10 days in July, on 18 days in August, and on 15 days in September ; the mean depth being 1·52 inches in July, 4·36 inches in August, and 3·73 inches in September. Winds with an easterly point blew on 5 days in July, on 7 days in August, and on 6 days in September. Winds with a westerly point blew on 20 days in July, on 18 days in August, and on 16 days in September. Northerly winds blew on 11 days in July, on 6 days in August, and on 4 days in September. Southerly winds blew on 7 days in July, on 11 days in August, and on 13 days in September.

N.B.—Districts containing Parliamentary and Royal Burghs are printed in capitals, thus—EDINBURGH. Districts containing Towns of 2000 Inhabitants and upwards are printed in small capitals, thus—CARLISLE. An asterisk “*” is prefixed to those Districts which have different names from the Parishes in which they are situated, or which comprise more, or parts of more than one Parish. The component parts of these Districts will be found on page 45.

A dagger “†” is prefixed to those Districts which consist of only a part of the Civil Parish of the same name.

METEOROLOGICAL REPORT

FOR THE MONTHS OF

JULY, AUGUST, SEPTEMBER.

1898.

DIAGRAM
 SHOWING THE STATIONS
 of the
SCOTTISH METEOROLOGICAL SOCIETY.
 Reported to the Registrar General of Scotland.

NOTES ON THE NUMERICAL RETURNS OF SCOTTISH METEOROLOGY
FOR THE QUARTER ENDING 30TH SEPTEMBER 1898.

By Dr BUCHAN, under the Direction of the Council of the Scottish Meteorological Society.

THESE returns are founded on the observations made, morning and evening, at 67 of the Stations of the Scottish Meteorological Society, and have been prepared from the Observers' separate schedules.

From the individual results for each station, the following collective results have been obtained, assuming them to have been equally well observed, and to represent the whole country :—

And when these results are compared with the averages of 1856-95, during the same months, they show the following characteristics and differences.

JULY 1898—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 30·055 inches ; greater than the average of 1856-95 by 0·180 inch.

Monthly Range, 0·873 inch ; less by 0·035 inch.

Mean Temperature, 56°·5 ; less by 0°·6.

Mean Daily Range, 17°·1 ; greater by 2°·2.

Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 103°·3 ; greater by 10°·9.

Do. at Night, 43°·4 ; less by 1°·1.

Mean Humidity, 77 ; less by 5·0.

Rain, Number of Days, 10 ; less by 5 days.

Rain, Depth in Inches, 1·52 ; less by 1·65 inch.

Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 1·59 lbs. ; greater by 0·17 lb.

Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 4 to 15, and N. to S. as 7 to 5 ; in place of E. to

W. as 5 to 11, and N. to S. as 5 to 7.

Hours of Sunshine, 181 ; greater by 10 hours.

Mean Amount of Cloud, 6·2 ; less by 3·7.

AUGUST 1898—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 29·881 inches ; greater than the average of 1856-95 by 0·030 inch.

Monthly Range, 0·922 inch ; less by 0·064 inch.

Mean Temperature, 57°·3 ; greater by 0°·7.

Mean Daily Range, 15°·2 ; greater by 0°·8.

Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 96°·4 ; greater by 6°·4.

Do. at Night, 45°·2 ; greater by 1°·1.

Mean Humidity, 82 ; less by 1·9.

Rain, Number of Days, 18 ; greater by 2 days.

Rain, Depth in Inches, 4·36 ; greater by 0·73 inch.

Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 1·60 lb. ; greater by 0·25 lb.

Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 5 to 14 ; and N. to S. as 4 to 7 ; in place of E. to W. as 5 to 11, and N. to S. as 5 to 7.

Hours of Sunshine, 140 ; less by 15 hours.

Mean Amount of Cloud, 6·6 ; less by 0·9.

SEPTEMBER 1898—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 29·976 inches ; greater than the average of 1856-95 by 0·132 inch.

Monthly Range, 0·824 inch ; less by 0·341 inch.

Mean Temperature, 56°·0 ; greater by 3°·2.

Mean Daily Range, 15°·8 ; greater by 2°·0.

Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 92°·0 ; greater by 9°·0.

Mean Amount of Cloud, 5·6 ; less by 1·7.

JULY 1898—

Hence the weather of JULY 1898 was characterised by a mean barometric pressure, very greatly in excess of the average, with a monthly range under it : a mean temperature, a little less than the average, with a mean daily range, very greatly above the average, having been in previous years exceeded only in 1868, and 1885, the range in these years being respectively 18°·2 and 17°·5 ; a mean humidity extraordinarily low, never having been observed lower during the past 43 years ; a small rainfall, being less than half the average, falling only on 10 days or 5 days fewer than the average ; and a large excess of N.W., and N. winds.

The mean barometric pressure was 30·055 inches, or 0·180 inch above the average, being one of the highest July means hitherto recorded. The excess was greatest in the southwest of the country where it was 0·230 inch, and least in the northeast where it was only 0·100 inch. This distribution of the pressure gave the excess of northerly winds which prevailed, bringing in their train a drier atmosphere, more sunshine, a temperature rather under the average, and a rainfall much less than the average both as regards amount and frequency.

The mean temperature was 56°·5 or 0°·6 under the average, the days being 0°·4 above and the nights 1°·8 under it, the relatively higher temperature of the days being occasioned by the greater sunshine, and the lower temperature of the nights by the northerly winds together with the drier state of the air. In the extreme north the temperature was generally 2°·0 and in the extreme south 1°·0 under the average ; whereas it was nearly half a degree above the average over the intermediate districts, bounded on the north by a line drawn from Corran to Aberdeen and on the south by a line from Rothesay to North Berwick. The absolutely highest temperature was 83°·0 on the 15th at Smeaton, and the lowest 32°·0 on the 30th at North Esk Reservoir.

The mean rainfall was 1·52 inch, or 52 per cent. under the average. This is one of the smallest rainfalls hitherto recorded for July, smaller amounts having been observed only in 1863, 1868 and 1878. In Orkney the average of the month was slightly exceeded, but over all other parts of the country it was under the average, the fall being less than a fourth part of the average over wide districts. The greater part of the rain fell from the 2nd to the 6th, 16th to the 18th, and 27th to the end of the month. Strong winds and storms were of rare occurrence, but the frequency of fog, chiefly in the west and north was a marked feature of the meteorology of the month.

Hence the weather of AUGUST 1898 was characterised by a mean barometric pressure a little higher than the average, with a monthly range slightly under the average; a mean temperature a little less than a degree above the average, with a mean daily range also a little above the average; a mean humidity less than the average; a mean rainfall a good deal above the average, falling on two days more than the average; the direction showed two days excess of west wind, the strength of the wind being nearly the average.

The mean barometric pressure was 29·881 inches, or 0·030 inch above the average, with a range slightly less. The pressure was relatively higher at southern and eastern stations, than at stations in the north and west, resulting in an excess of westerly winds.

The mean temperature was 57°·3, or 0°·7 above the average, the days being 1°·1, and the nights 0°·3 in excess. The greatest excess, about 1°·5, occurred in south-western districts, and the least in strictly inland situations. The excess was in most cases less at inland stations than near the coast. The absolutely highest temperature was 83°·0 on the 12th at Smeaton; and the lowest 32°·3 on the 25th at Braemar.

The mean rainfall was 4·36 inches, or 20 per cent. above the average. The amount was very irregularly distributed among the stations. It was under the average to the east of a line drawn from Dunrobin to Fort Augustus, Kingussie, Braemar, and Cupar, and in the counties of Berwick, Peebles and Selkirk. The greatest deficiency, amounting to about one-third of the average occurred at coast stations in the east. Everywhere else over the country, the rainfall exceeded the average, that is at all places open to the westerly winds. The general excess varied from a fourth to half the average. The heaviest rains occurred during the first fortnight and last six days of the month, and from the 12th to the end of the month thunderstorms with accompanying heavy showers were of rather frequent occurrence.

SEPTEMBER 1898—

Hence the weather of SEPTEMBER 1898 was characterised by a mean barometric pressure very much above the average, with an exceedingly small monthly range; a mean temperature, unusually high, having been previously exceeded only by the warm Septembers of 1865, 1890 and 1895, accompanied with a mean daily range unusually large; a mean humidity only very slightly under the average; a mean rainfall very little above the average, falling on one day fewer than the average; four days excess of south-westerly winds.

The mean barometric pressure was 29·976 inches, or 0·132 inch in excess of the average, the excess being rather greater in the south and the east than in the north and west. Hence the greater prevalence of south-westerly winds. The type of the weather was strongly anticyclonic, and as in such cases barometric pressure exceeded the average in a greater degree at inland than at coast stations.

The mean temperature was 56°·0, or 3°·2 above the average, the days being 4°·2 and the nights 2°·2 in excess. Thus the abnormally high temperature was mainly occasioned by the dry atmosphere, clear skies and strong sunshine of the prevailing anticyclones. The excess of temperature was greatest at inland and eastern stations from Sutherland to the Cheviots, the excess varying from 3°·2 to 4°·3. On the other hand, it was only 1°·0 in Shetland and little more than 2°·0 over the west coast from Cape Wrath to the Solway. The warmest week was that ending on the 10th when the excess above the averages at the inland stations, Marchmont, Braemar, Kingussie, and Lairg was 11°·0, while for the same week it was only 4°·4 at Sumburgh Head. But at these inland stations the mean temperature for the last ten days of the month was 16°·0 lower than for the week ending the 10th. The absolutely highest temperature was 86°·2 on the 5th at Lairg and the lowest 26°·0 on the 24th at Stobo. The above maximum is the highest hitherto recorded in September except 1868, when the maximum temperature was 86°·5.

The mean rainfall was 3·73 inches, or 5 per cent. above the average. In Shetland, at south western stations south of Clydesdale, and at eastern stations from the Moray Firth to the Cheviots, the rainfall was under the average, the amount collected in the more southern districts being only a little more than a fourth part of the average. Over the rest of the country it exceeded the average, the excess being about 75 per cent at Airds, Inverary, and Dollar. The rainfall was light or nil from the 4th to the 7th, and 22nd to the 26th. The month was free from storms, except during the last three days, when a storm is reported in the south-west from Islay to the Solway. A remarkably fine aurora was seen on the 9th. It is interesting to note that during this remarkable month the rainfall at the Ben Nevis Observatory was 24·81 inches, and the mean temperature 42°·6 or 4°·7 above the average. On the 20th the rainfall was 5·37 inches.

REGISTRARS' NOTES.

IN compliance with the following Instructions, many of the Registrars have appended remarks to their Returns, from which the subjoined Notes have been selected. The Registrars alone must be considered responsible for the opinions which they express.

INSTRUCTIONS TO REGISTRARS.

"If, at any time, the Births (whether legitimate or illegitimate), the Deaths, or the Marriages registered during the Quarter have been above or below the average, here state what you consider to be the cause, and whether epidemics, such as Measles, Typhus, Cholera, etc., have prevailed in the District; or if there is any other fact in the character of the Weather, Sanitary or Social Arrangements, Movement of the Population, etc., which will account for the circumstance."

The Figures refer to the Numbers of the Districts in the preceding Tables.

I. NORTHERN DIVISION.

1. SHETLAND.

5 (1). LERWICK.—The number of deaths is abnormal; seven were caused by Drowning through the loss of a fishing boat.

5 (2). BURRA ISLES.—The two deaths were of males aged respectively 82 and 88 years.

2. ORKNEY.

20. HOY AND GRÆMSAY. — Hooping-cough prevalent, the three deaths registered being from that cause.

3. CAITHNESS

36. DUNNET.—The three deaths recorded were of persons aged respectively 73, 78 and 97 years.

4. SUTHERLAND.

45. CLYNE.—The parents of one of the illegitimate children were tinkers, who were not regularly married, but a ceremony had been gone through according to their own forms.

II. NORTH-WESTERN DIVISION.

5. ROSS AND CROMARTY.

Mainland.

81. ROSSKEEN.—Of the seven deaths registered in September, two were of females, aged 82 and 88 years, and two of males aged 83 and 85 years respectively.

Insular.

86a. BARVAS.—Several persons belonging to this parish were married during the quarter when temporarily employed at the east coast herring fishing.

6. INVERNESS.

Mainland.

94. CROY AND DALCROSS.—A few cases of Scarlatina occurred, one of which proved fatal.

95. DAVIOT AND DUNLIGHTY.—The Return is exceptional, neither death nor marriage recorded, and only three births.

100. KILMORACK.—Typhoid Fever broke out in Beaully and neighbourhood in the beginning of the quarter. Most of the patients were removed to Inverness Infirmary, and all necessary precautions adopted, and the District is believed to be now clear of the epidemic. None of the cases resulted fatally.

III. NORTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

8. ELGIN (OR MORAY).

130. DRAINIE.—No death recorded since 20th August. Of the ten registered, two were of persons aged respectively 81 and 87 years.

135. ELGIN.—The death-rate for September is exceptionally low.

144 (2). GARMOUTH.—Births above the average. Of the four deaths registered, one was of a boy, eight years of age, by Accidental Drowning, and the others were of persons aged respectively 69, 85, and 87 years.

9. BANFF.

152. ENZIE.—An epidemic of Measles at present prevails in the village of Port Gordon, generally of a mild type, but two children have died from after effects.

10. ABERDEEN.

172. AUCHINDOIR.—Of the five births registered, three were illegitimate. Three of the six deaths were of persons aged respectively 78, 87, and 92 years.

174. BELHELVIE.—Of the seven deaths recorded, five were of children aged six years and under.

182. COULL.—Health of the parish remarkably good. The three deaths registered were of females aged respectively 81, 78, and 78 years.

185. CRUDEN.—One of the five deaths was caused by Scarlatina, which has been prevalent in some parts of the parish.

222a. MIDMAR.—The only death registered was that of a female aged 95 years.

227b. NEW PITSLIGO.—Of the ten deaths recorded, five were of persons whose respective ages ranged from 76 to 85 years. The general health of the District is remarkably good. Every year the village is becoming more popular as a health resort.

235 (2). INVERALLOCHY.—Deaths for August above the average. Measles very prevalent during that month, and three deaths of children at the respective ages of 15, 11, and 9 months, resulted therefrom.

238. SKENE.—A number of marriages of persons belonging to this parish are celebrated in Aberdeen, which accounts for the small number registered here.

239. SLAINS.—Of the five deaths registered, four were of persons aged respectively 71, 74, 79, and 82 years.

243. TARVES.—The two illegitimate births are of twins.

11. KINCARDINE.

251 (2). PORTLETHEN.—No marriages registered during the year. The principal reason for this falling off is that the younger fishermen are leaving for the larger centres. The birth-rate is much below the average for the quarter, and there are no deaths.

IV. EAST-MIDLAND DIVISION.

12. FORFAR.

271. ARBRICOT.—Whooping-cough prevalent for last two months.

273. AUCHTERHOUSE.—Of the three deaths recorded, two were of persons aged respectively 90 and 93 years.

13. PERTH.

330. AUCHTERGAVEN.—The numbers of births and deaths are about normal. Of the seven births registered three were illegitimate.

376. LOGIERAIT.—Of the eleven deaths, six occurred in the Atholl, Weem, and Breadalbane Combination Poorhouse, and were of persons aged respectively 79, 79, 86, 87, 89, and 93 years.

14. FIFE.

401. ABERDOUR.—Of three deaths registered in succession, two were Suicidal—one by Drowning and one by Hanging—and one by Accidental Drowning.

405. AUCHTERDERRAN. — An epidemic of Measles during July and August was the cause of the high death-rate during these months.

410. BEATH. — The increased birth-rate is accounted for by the increase of population.

420. CUPAR. — Of the thirty-eight deaths registered, twelve occurred in the Fife and Kinross Asylum.

426. DYSART.—Deaths above the average, but only one from Zymotic Disease. The largest proportion is certified to be due to Heart Disease.

429. FERRY-PORR-ON-CRAIG.—Of the fourteen deaths recorded, six were of females aged 78, 79, 81, 82, 84, and 89 years, and two of males aged 77 and 85 years respectively.

458b. TULLIALLAN.—Of the six deaths registered, three were of persons aged respectively 70, 78, and 84 years.

V. WEST-MIDLAND DIVISION.

17. STIRLING.

479. FALKIRK.—A man aged 94 years died in the Falkirk Poorhouse, where he had spent the last ten years of his life.

484. KIPPEN.—Twins have been registered on two different occasions during the quarter.

19. ARGYLL.

Mainland.

510. (1) DUNOON. — Of the forty-two deaths registered, twelve were of visitors, and two were caused by accidental drowning.

513. INVERARAY.—An out-break of Hooping-cough, of a mild type, occurred during the quarter. None of the cases proved fatal.

Insular.

551 (2). COLL.—One of the two deaths was that of a visitor.

20. BUTE.

555. KINGARTH.—Of the six deaths recorded, three were of summer visitors, or of temporary residents.

558. ROTHESAY. — Hooping-cough very prevalent during July and August, and proved fatal in five cases. Thirteen of the deaths were of persons who were merely visitors.

21. RENFREW.

569. KILMALCOLM.—Of the fourteen deaths registered, one was caused by accidental drowning.

22. Ayr.

578. (1) Ayr.—Of the 166 deaths, one was of a person 94 years of age, and seven were above 80. To Violent Causes eleven of the deaths were ascribed.

593. GALSTON. — Diarrhoea prevalent, and caused several deaths of children.

594. GIRVAN. — Infant mortality has been unusually high. Of the twenty-two deaths registered, ten were of children aged 1 year and under.

607. MUIRKIRK.—A few cases of Measles and Typhoid Fever occurred, but without any fatal results.

23. LANARK.

628. CAMBUSNETHAN. — Scarlet Fever prevalent.

629. CARLUKE.—Scarlet Fever prevalent, and four cases fatal.

VII. SOUTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

24. LINLITHGOW.

665 (1). DALMENY.—A few isolated cases of Scarlet Fever and Measles have occurred, but none fatal. The only death registered was that of a child prematurely born.

25. EDINBURGH.

686. FALA AND SOUTRA.—Some cases of Hooping-cough occurred during the quarter, but no deaths therefrom.

691. LASSWADE.—Of the thirty deaths recorded, one resulted from an accident, and four were of persons aged 82, 84, 84, and 86 years respectively.

26. HADDINGTON.

717. PRESTONKIRK. — Of the eight deaths registered, one was of a woman aged 94 years, and two of men aged respectively 86 and 84 years.

27. BERWICK.

740. FOGO.—One of the three deaths resulted from an accident.

28. PEEBLES.

760. EDDLESTON.—The death was that of a female aged 96 years.

767. NEWLANDS.—A few cases of Measles and Hooping-cough occurred, but no death therefrom.

VIII. SOUTHERN DIVISION.

30. ROXBURGH.

807. SPROUSTON.—Two deaths were caused by Hooping-cough, which has been prevalent since July.

808. STITCHEL.—Hooping-cough prevalent.

31. DUMFRIES.

813<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>. —BRIDEKIRK.—Measles extremely prevalent during August and September, the Public School being closed for five weeks by authority of the Medical Officer of Health for the County. Although the type has not been mild, no deaths resulted from the epidemic.

840. LOCHMABEN. — Death-rate exceptionally low. The ages of the six persons whose deaths were registered were 58, 71, 72, 72, 74, and 81 years respectively.

32. KIRKCUDBRIGHT.

860. CARSPHAIRN.—Only one death recorded, that of a person aged 88 years.

876. MINNIGAFF. — This is the first quarter since the passing of the Registration Act in which no deaths have been recorded.

* The actual number of Districts is 1071—many Parishes and Burghs having been divided into two or more Districts for the purpose of Registration. Thus Edinburgh and Glasgow, to each of which only a single number is assigned in the Tables, consist of 6 and 14 Districts respectively. In forming the alphabetical arrangement the principle adopted has been to place compound names in the order in which they are pronounced.

BIRTHS.

31,985 Births were registered in Scotland during the quarter, being at the annual rate of 299 for every ten thousand of the estimated population, or 2.99 per cent.

The Birth-rate in the Principal Town Districts for every ten thousand persons was 312; in the Large Town Districts, 308; in the Small Town Districts, 309; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 264; and in the Insular-Rural Districts, 245.

In Leith, the Birth-rate for every ten thousand persons was 347; in Greenock, 337; in Aberdeen, 335; in Glasgow, 321; in Paisley, 298; in Perth 297; in Dundee, 291; and in Edinburgh, 262.

Of the 31,985 Births, 2214, or 6·9 per cent., were illegitimate. In the Large Town Districts, 5·1 per cent. of the Births were illegitimate; in the Insular-Rural Districts, 5·8; in the Small Town Districts, 6·3; in the Principal Town Districts, 6·8; and in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 9·3.

A comparative statement of the rate of illegitimacy in the Divisions and Counties of Scotland will be found in Tables I. and II. Table I. shows the rate of illegitimacy to have been highest in the North-Eastern and Southern Divisions; and from Table II. it may be gathered that in ten of the Counties the rate of illegitimacy was over 10 per cent. The highest rate in any County occurred in Wigtown, viz., 15·5 per cent.; and the lowest in Bute, viz., 1·9 per cent.

Of the 31,985 Births, 16,571 were of males, and 15,414 of females, being in the proportion of 108 males for every 100 females. 11,213 Births were registered during October, being at the rate of 362 daily; 10,170 during November, or 339 daily; and 10,602 during December, or 342 daily.

DEATHS.

The Deaths of 19,020 persons were registered in Scotland during the quarter, being at the annual rate of 178 for every ten thousand of the estimated population, or 1·78 per cent.

The number of Deaths registered in England and Wales during the quarter was 132,451, being at the annual rate of 167 for every ten thousand of the estimated population, or 1·67 per cent.

The Death-rate for every ten thousand persons in the Principal Town Districts was 193 in the Large Town Districts, 181; in the Small Town

Districts, 170; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 157; and in the Insular-Rural Districts, 153.

The Death-rate for every ten thousand persons in Dundee was 209 ; in Aberdeen, 202 ; in Edinburgh, 200 ; in Perth, 198 ; in Glasgow, 196 ; in Greenock, 191 ; in Paisley, 178 ; and in Leith, 172.

Of the 19,020 Deaths, 9569 were of males, and 9451 of females. 6340 Deaths were registered during October, or 205 daily ; 6162 during November, or 205 daily ; and 6518 during December, or 210 daily.

MARRIAGES.

8735 Marriages were registered in Scotland during the quarter, being at the rate of 82 for every ten thousand of the estimated population, or 0·82 per cent.

In the Principal Town Districts the Marriage rate for every ten thousand persons was 91 ; in the Large Town Districts, 77 ; in the Small Town Districts, 82 ; in the Mainland-Rural Districts, 69 ; and in the Insular-Rural Districts, 47.

In Perth, Marriages occurred at the rate of 105 for every ten thousand of estimated population ; in Edinburgh, at the rate of 104 ; in Aberdeen, at the rate of 103 ; in Greenock, at the rate of 95 ; in Glasgow, at the rate of 93 ; in Leith, at the rate of 87 ; in Paisley, at the rate of 78 ; and in Dundee, at the rate of 74.

2198 Marriages were registered during October, being at the rate of 71 daily ; 2150 during November, or 72 daily ; and 4387 during December, or 142 daily.

INCREASE OF POPULATION AND EMIGRATION.

The Births for the quarter having amounted to 31,985, and the Deaths to 19,020, the natural increase of the population, not allowing for changes caused by emigration or immigration, was 12,965. Of the number of immigrants no satisfactory estimate can be formed, but in regard to emigrants it is found from Returns furnished by the Board of Trade that the number of these for the quarter was 46,635, of whom 22,159, were English, 3588 Scottish, 5824 Irish, 13,587 Foreigners, and 1477 persons whose nationality was not distinguished, but of whom about 117 may be assumed to be Scottish. If then 3588 + 117, the number of Scottish emigrants, be deducted from the number representing the increase of Births over Deaths, the probable increase of the population is shown to be about 9260 for the quarter.

DISEASES IN THE ABOVE PRINCIPAL TOWNS.

About 36 per cent. of the population of Scotland are resident in these towns, and it may therefore be assumed that diseases prevailing in them will also be found to a corresponding extent throughout the country.

The total deaths in these towns amounted to 2664 in October, 2514 in November, and 2584 in December; and of these 130 in October, 101 in November, and 90 in December were not specified or ill-defined.

Miasmatic Diseases caused 236 deaths in October, or 1·77 per thousand of the estimated population; 234 in November, or 1·82 per thousand; and 259 in December, or 1·94 per thousand.

Measles caused 26 deaths in October, or 0·20 per thousand of the estimated population; 41 in November, or 0·32 per thousand; and 56 in December, or 0·42 per thousand. Scarlet Fever caused 38 deaths in October, or 0·29 per thousand; 29 in November, or 0·22 per thousand; and 46 in December, or 0·35 per thousand. To Hooping-Cough were attributed 72 deaths in October, or 0·54 per thousand; 49 in November, or 0·38; and 75 in December, or 0·56. From Diphtheria there resulted 34 deaths in October, or 0·26; 40 in November, or 0·31; and 22 in December, or 0·17. To Fevers were ascribed 58 deaths in October, or 0·44; 62 in November, or 0·48; and 44 in December, or 0·33.

Diarrhoea and Dysentery caused 125 deaths in October, or 0·94 per thousand of estimated population; 66 in November, or 0·51 per thousand; and 36 in December, or 0·27 per thousand.

Venereal Diseases caused 12 deaths in October, 13 in November, and 10 in December.

From Intemperance there resulted 9 deaths in October, 8 in November, and 8 in December.

To Constitutional Diseases were ascribed 506 deaths in October, 484 in November, and 464 in December; and of these 131 in October, 100 in November, and 108 in December were from Cancer; and from Phthisis, 231 in October, or 1.73 per thousand of estimated population; 245 in November, or 1.90 per thousand; and 211 in December, or 1.58 per thousand.

Developmental Diseases caused 179 deaths in October, 187 in November, and 186 in December.

To Diseases of the Nervous System were attributed 284 deaths in October, 258 in November, and 300 in December.

Diseases of the Respiratory System caused 510 deaths in October, 557 in November, and 576 in December; and of these, 6 in October, 5 in November, and 8 in December were from Croup; 225 in October, 258 in November, and 266 in December from Bronchitis; and 238 in October, 241 in November, and 250 in December from Pneumonia.

From Diseases of the Digestive System there resulted 221 deaths in October, 170 in November, and 156 in December.

Diseases of the Urinary System caused 69 deaths in October, 70 in November, and 74 in December.

Parturition, or conditions in connection therewith (including Puerperal Fever), caused 23 deaths in October, 12 deaths in November, and 26 deaths in December.

To Violent Causes were ascribed 85 deaths in October, 107 in November, and 126 in December.

WEATHER.

The following remarks on the weather of the quarter are extracted from the Meteorological Returns which appear in the Registrar-General's Monthly Reports:—

October was characterised by a mean barometric pressure, nearly the average, with a monthly range only slightly under the average; a mean temperature almost unprecedentedly high for October, with a mean daily range about a degree and a half under the average; a mean humidity about the average; a mean rainfall rather above the average, falling on one day more than the average; a very unusual prevalence of easterly, and deficiency of westerly winds, blowing also with unusual force.

high mean humidity; a mean rainfall greatly above the average, falling on two days more than the average; and a prevalence of south-easterly winds.

December was characterised by a mean barometric pressure rather under the average, with a monthly range considerably above it; a mean temperature very greatly above the average, with a mean daily range also greatly above it; an unprecedentedly low mean humidity; a mean rainfall nearly the average, but falling on five days more than the average; and an extraordinary prevalence of winds from the west.

The mean height of the barometric column, reduced to sea-level and 32° Fahr., was 29·804 inches in October, 29·753 inches in November, and 29·740 inches in December. The mean temperature for the quarter was 44°·8, being 2°·9 above the average mean temperature for the quarter during the last ten years. The mean temperature for October was 50°·1, for November, 41°·7, and for December, 42°·6. The absolute highest temperature was 79°·8 in October, 61°·0 in November, and 59°·0 in December; the absolute lowest being 26°·5 in October, 6°·0 in November, and 15°·0 in December. Rain fell on 17 days in October, on 17 days in November, and on 24 days in December; the mean depth being 4·42 inches in October, 5·05 inches in November, and 6·07 inches in December. Winds with an easterly point blew on 13 days in October, on 7 days in November, and on 3 days in December. Winds with a westerly point blew on 11 days in October, on 13 days in November, and on 23 days in December. Northerly winds blew on 4 days in October, on 7 days in November, and on 6 days in December. Southerly winds blew on 12 days in October, on 11 days in November, and on 13 days in December.

X.B.—Districts containing Parliamentary and Royal Burghs are printed in capitals, thus—EDINBURGH. Districts containing Towns of 2000 Inhabitants and upwards are printed in small capitals, thus—CARLUKE. An asterisk “*” is prefixed to those Districts which have different names in the different years, and are situated in more than one Parish. The component parts of these Districts will be found on page 45. A dagger “†” is prefixed to those Districts which consist of only a part of the Civil Parish of the same name.

METEOROLOGICAL REPORT

OCTOBER, NOVEMBER, DECEMBER,

1898.

NOTES ON THE NUMERICAL RETURNS OF SCOTTISH METEOROLOGY
FOR THE QUARTER ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 1898.

By Dr BUCHAN, under the Direction of the Council of the Scottish Meteorological Society.

THESE returns are founded on the observations made, morning and evening, at 67 of the Stations of the Scottish Meteorological Society, and have been prepared from the Observers' separate schedules.

From the individual results for each station, the following collective results have been obtained, assuming them to have been equally well observed, and to represent the whole country :—

COLLECTED RETURNS FOR ALL THE ACCEPTED STATIONS OF THE SCOTTISH METEOROLOGICAL SOCIETY, HAVING A MEAN LATITUDE =  $56^{\circ} 33' N.$  ; MEAN LONGITUDE =  $3^{\circ} 45' W.$  ; AND MEAN ELEVATION = 279 Feet.

And when these results are compared with the averages of 1856-95, during the same months, they show the following characteristics and differences.

OCTOBER 1898—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 29.804 inches ; less than the average of 1856-95 by 0.002 inch.

Monthly Range, 1.428 inch ; less by 0.052 inch.

Mean Temperature,  $50^{\circ} 1$  ; greater by  $3^{\circ} 7$ .

Mean Daily Range,  $11^{\circ} 4$  ; less by  $0^{\circ} 5$ .

Mean of Black Bulb in Sun,  $72^{\circ} 5$  ; greater by  $3^{\circ} 5$ .

Do. at Night,  $40^{\circ} 4$  ; greater by  $5^{\circ} 2$ .

Mean Humidity, 87 ; less by 0.50.

Rain, Number of Days, 17 ; being the average.

Rain, Depth in Inches, 4.42 ; greater by 0.37 inch.

Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 2.46 lbs. ; greater by 0.52 lb.

Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 10 to 9, and N. to S. as 9 to 3 ; in place of E. to W. as 5 to 11, and N. to S. as 6 to 9.

Hours of Sunshine, 82 ; less by 14 hours.

Mean Amount of Cloud, 6.6 ; greater by 0.20.

NOVEMBER 1898—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 29·753 inches; less than the average of 1856–95 by 0·068 inch.

Monthly Range, 1·364 inch; less by 0·177 inch.

Mean Temperature, 41°·7; greater by 1°·1.

Mean Daily Range, 11°·4; greater by 1°·0.

Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 58°·0; greater by 2°·0.

Do. at Night, 31°·7; greater by 1°·0.

Mean Humidity, 88; being the average.

Rain, Number of Days, 17; greater by 1 day.

Rain, Depth in Inches, 5·05; greater by 1·23 inch.

Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 2·04 lbs.; greater by 0·18 lb.

Wind, Direction of, E. to W. as 5 to 10; and N. to S. as 5 to 3; in place of E. to W. as 5 to 10, and N. to S. as 6 to 7.

Hours of Sunshine, 43; less by 13 hours.

Mean Amount of Cloud, 6·6; greater by 0·13.

DECEMBER 1898—

Mean Barometric Pressure, 29·740 inches; less than the average of 1856–95 by 0·051 inch.

Monthly Range, 1·752 inch; greater by 0·187.

Mean Temperature, 42°·6; greater by 4°·8.

Mean Daily Range, 10°·7; greater by 1°·1.

Mean of Black Bulb in Sun, 55°·0; greater by 7°·3.

Do. at Night, 33°·1; greater by 4°·7.

Mean Humidity, 85; less by 3°·0.

Rain, Number of Days, 24; greater by 8 days.

Rain, Depth in Inches, 6·07; greater by 2·10 inches.

Wind, Pressure on Square Foot, 3·00 lbs.; greater by 1·01 lb.

Hours of Sunshine, 31; less by 14 hours.

Mean Amount of Cloud, 6·6; greater by 1·2.

OCTOBER 1898—

Thus the weather of OCTOBER 1898 was characterised by a mean barometric pressure all but the average, with a monthly range a little under it; a mean temperature the highest hitherto recorded for October, with a mean daily range slightly less than the average; a mean humidity nearly the average; a mean rainfall a little above the average, falling on the average number of days; and an unusual prevalence of easterly winds and deficiency of westerly winds.

The mean barometric pressure was 29·804 inches, being close to the average. The distribution of pressure over the country was very unusual, being above the average, 0·093 inch at North Unst, and 0·030 inch at Aberdeen; but under it, 0·007 inch at Stornoway, and 0·022 inch at Pinmore; and, with such a distribution of pressure, an unwonted predominance of easterly wind prevailed.

The mean temperature was 50°·1, or 3°·7 above the average, and moreover the highest mean temperature yet recorded by the Scottish Meteorological Society for any October. The days were 3°·4 and the nights 3°·9 above the average. The excess of temperature was singularly uniform in all districts, being only a little higher at inland as compared with coast stations. The excess, however, was rather less in Orkney and Shetland, being at North Unst only 2°·0. With the exception of the 12th, 15th to the 18th, 30th and 31st, temperature may be regarded as having been phenomenally high for the time of the year. The absolutely highest temperature was 79°·8 on the 3rd at Lairg, and the lowest 26°·5 on the 17th at Lednathie.

The mean rainfall was 4·42 inches, or 9 per cent. above the average. It was above the average at all stations on the east side of the country from the Don to the Tweed, this being the part of Scotland most exposed to the easterly winds. At many places the excess was very large, being above the average, in percentages, 160 at Haddington, 133 at Smeaton, 122 at Broomlands, near Kelso, and Perth, and 110 at Tillypronie. It was also above the average, but slightly, west of the Moray Firth, from Cromarty northwards, and in Shetland. Over all other districts it was less than the average, particularly from Cape Wrath as far south as Islay, the general deficiency being about 50 per cent.; these being the districts most completely protected from the rains of the easterly winds. The greater part of the rain fell during the latter half of the month, the first fortnight being generally dry. At many eastern stations the rainfall of the 17th and 18th was very heavy, the amounts, in inches, being 3·40 at Haddington and Perth, 2·87 at Dundee, and 3·31 at Marchmont.

Thus the weather of NOVEMBER 1898 was characterised by a mean barometric pressure a good deal under the average, with a monthly range greatly under it; a mean temperature about a degree above the average, with a mean daily range also a degree above it; a mean humidity the average; a mean rainfall considerably above the average, falling on a day more than the average; and the winds nearly the average, both as regards force and direction.

The mean barometric pressure was 29·753 inches, or 0·068 inch less than the average. The deficiency was pretty evenly distributed over the country, being only a little more pronounced in the extreme north than in the south.

The mean temperature was 41°·7, or 1°·1 above the average, the days being 1°·5 in excess and the nights 0°·5. The excess of temperature was rather greater in the south than in the north, but on the whole it may be regarded as pretty evenly distributed among the stations. The absolutely highest temperature was 61°·0 on the 2nd at Edinburgh and the 12th at Glencarron; and the lowest 6°·0 on the 29th at Stobo. During the first three weeks the relatively high temperature of the previous month was continued, but during the last ten days of the month temperatures were much lower.

The mean rainfall was 5·05 inches, or 32 per cent. above the average. This is rather a large mean rainfall for November. In a few detached districts in the counties of Shetland, Ross, Inverness, Argyll, Aberdeen, and in Galloway, the rainfall was under the average, but the deficiency anywhere scarcely exceeded 30 per cent. Everywhere else the rainfall exceeded the average, there being about 90 per cent. of excess at Stornoway, Thurso, Cupar, North Esk Reservoir, and Stobo Castle. On the first four days of the month strong westerly winds prevailed, accompanied with very heavy rainfalls, the amounts for these four days exceeding five inches at a good many places. The rains from the 23rd to the 25th were also very heavy. Snow frequently fell from the 21st to the 29th.

DECEMBER 1898—

Hence the weather of DECEMBER 1898 was characterised by a mean barometric pressure somewhat less than the average, with a monthly range considerably above it; a mean temperature higher than any recorded since December 1857, which was 2°·4 higher; a mean daily range considerably above the average; an exceedingly low mean humidity, no lower having previously occurred, except in 1874; a mean rainfall, phenomenal both as regards amount and manner of distribution among the stations; and an extraordinary predominance of west-south-westerly winds, blowing with a mean force only exceeded by the December of 1893.

The mean temperature was 42°·6, or 4°·8 above the average, the days being 5°·3 and the nights 4°·2 in excess. The excess was small, scarcely amounting to a degree in the extreme north of the Hebrides, Orkney, and Shetland; but it gradually increased on proceeding southwards till in inland situations south of the Grampians it exceeded 6°·0; and generally the excess was greater at east coast than at west coast stations. The absolutely highest temperature was 59°·0 on the 5th at Boyndie, and on the 25th at Airds; and the lowest 17°·0 on the 31st at Aberlour and Lednathie. Except on the last two days of the month high temperatures ruled throughout.

The mean rainfall was 6·07 inches, or 53 per cent. above the average. It is scarcely possible to point to a previous month when the amounts recorded at the different stations showed differences so extraordinary. To the east of a line from Haddo House, passing Perth, Loch Leven, Edinburgh, and Kelso, the rainfall was under the average, the deficiency being greatest at places near the coast from the Don to the Tweed, being about 50 per cent. It was also under the average over the extreme south-west of Galloway. In all other parts of the country it was above the average, rising to more than double the average over extensive breadths. The heaviest rainfalls were at places north of the Grampians, the largest, stated in percentages above their averages, being 219 at Glencarron, 212 at Kingussie, 203 at Stornoway, 185 at Cromarty, and 178 at Fort-William. The largest absolute rainfall at any of the stations was 23·20 inches at Fort-William; at Glencarron the amount was 21·65 inches; and at Stronvar, 18·01 inches. On the other hand, the three smallest amounts were 1·03 inch at Haddington, 1·17 inch at Arbroath, and 1·35 inch at Dundee. Falls of more than an inch a day were frequent during the month. Widespread storms occurred on the 1st to 2nd, 7th to 10th, 14th, 18th to 19th, 22nd to 23rd, 27th, and 31st.

REGISTRARS' NOTES.

In compliance with the following Instructions, many of the Registrars have appended remarks to their Returns, from which the subjoined Notes have been selected. The Registrars alone must be considered responsible for the opinions which they express.

INSTRUCTIONS TO REGISTRARS.

"If, at any time, the Births (whether legitimate or illegitimate), the Deaths, or the Marriages registered during the Quarter have been above or below the average, here state what you consider to be the cause, and whether epidemics, such as Measles, Typhus, Cholera, etc., have prevailed in the District; or if there is any other fact in the character of the Weather, Sanitary or Social Arrangements, Movement of the Population, etc., which will account for the circumstance."

The Figures refer to the Numbers of the Districts in the preceding Tables.

I. NORTHERN DIVISION.

1. SHETLAND.

10 (2). WHITENESS AND WEISDALE.—Of the seven deaths registered, three were caused by Drowning.

4. SUTHERLAND.

44 (2). STOER.—Deaths below the average. Of the five registered, two were of persons aged respectively 95 and 91 years. Two were caused by Measles, which was prevalent.

49 (2). KNOCKBAIN.—No deaths during quarter. Measles prevalent.

5. ROSS AND CROMARTY.

Mainland.

57. ALNESS.—One of the six deaths was that of a woman who was found drowned in the river.

69. KILMUIR-EASTER.—Measles prevalent.

71a. (1). KINCARDINE.—One of the deaths was that of a lad, 26 years of age, who was stated to have died from exposure.

82. TAIN.—Measles epidemic, but of a mild type.

Insular.

88. STORNOWAY.—The increase of the number of marriages over that for the corresponding quarter of last year is clearly due to the successful herring fishing on the East Coast. The increase of deaths is owing to an epidemic of Measles in one of the landward districts of the parish.

6. INVERNESS.

Mainland.

94. CROY AND DALCROSS.—Several cases of Scarlatina of a mild type occurred.

104. LAGGAN.—Weather very severe. Two tramps were found dead on 23rd November, at Drumlaggan—a very exposed place.

Insular.

108. BARRA.—Measles prevalent.

111 (1). NORTH HARRIS.—A case of Typhus Fever occurred in November, and terminated fatally.

114 (1). PORTREE.—Of the eight deaths registered, two resulted from Typhus Fever, and one from Typhoid.

119. STRATH.—Of the fourteen deaths recorded, six were caused by Pneumonia, and one by Drowning.

III. NORTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

9. BANFF.

152. ENZIE.—An epidemic of Measles prevailed in the village of Port Gordon in September and October, and seven of the deaths recorded in these months were from Measles and its effects.

153 (1). FORDYCE.—The number of deaths registered during 1898 is much above the average. Some of the ages attained are worthy of note—three being of persons over 90 years, one reaching 98; four between 80 and 90; and seven between 70 and 80 years.

155 (1). GAMRIE.—Measles prevalent, and seven of the fourteen deaths are from that cause.

167. SEAFIELD.—Owing to the good summer fishing, there is an increase in the number of marriages

10. ABERDEEN.

172. AUCHINDOIR.—Of the eight births registered, two are illegitimate; and of the eight deaths, one was of a male 86 years of age.

173. AUCHTERLESS.—A mild type of Scarlet Fever prevalent in a portion of the parish, and one school was consequently closed.

179. CHAPEL OF GARIOCH.—Although no marriages were celebrated within the parish, there have been nine proclamations. The fashion is to have the ceremonies performed in hotels in one or other of the neighbouring towns.

181. CLUNY.—No marriages during the year. The explanation is that these are now, as a rule, celebrated in hotels in villages or towns, instead of in the house of the bride's parents, as formerly.

211. KINNELLAR.—The only death registered was that of a retired domestic servant aged 72 years.

218. LONGSIDE.—Deaths very much below the average, notwithstanding that an epidemic of Measles has prevailed.

222a. MIDMAR.—There were three more marriages of persons belonging to the district, but these were celebrated in Aberdeen, where it is becoming quite common to have these ceremonies performed. One of the four deaths recorded was suicidal.

232 (2). BODDAM.—Whooping-cough very prevalent, and many deaths either directly or from Bronchitis as a secondary cause have occurred.

237a. RHYNIE.—Marriages of persons belonging to the district are celebrated in hotels in Aberdeen or Huntly.

239. SLAINS.—Seven of the deaths were those of the crew of the 'Zippora,' who were drowned by the wreck of that vessel on 19th October; and other five were of males whose bodies were cast on shore.

243. TARVES.—Of the eighteen deaths registered, eleven were of persons over 70 years of age, four being between 70 and 80 years, five between 80 and 90, and two over 90, giving a total of 903 years, or an average, for the eleven, of 82 years.

249b. YTHAN WELLS.—Two of the deaths were due to Diphtheria, of which several cases have occurred.

11. KINCARDINE.

253. BENHOLM.—Seven dead bodies were washed ashore during November, from shipwrecks in the locality, thus causing a very high death-rate for the quarter.

254. BERVIE.—Six sailors were drowned at Gourdon, in this parish, during November.

259. FORDOUN.—A death was registered in November from Typhoid Fever. No other cases occurred.

267. ST CYRUS.—Of the nine deaths registered, five were of seamen, whose bodies were cast ashore after the storm in October.

IV. EAST-MIDLAND DIVISION.

12. FORFAR.

288a. FORFAR.—Births, deaths, and marriages all below the average. This is accounted for by a decrease of the population in consequence of the closing of one of the Factories. Measles prevalent.

291. GUTHRIE.—The only death was that of a female aged 82 years.

305. LUNAN. — The death in October was caused by a railway accident.

321. TANNADICE. — One of the four deaths, — that of a girl 8 years of age, resulted from Diphtheria.

13. PERTH.

330. AUCHTERGAVEN. — Births and deaths about the average. Marriages are getting fewer every year. Illegitimacy is increasing. One-fourth of the children born during the past year were illegitimate. An increasing 'gangrel' population, and low lodging-houses, are busy factors in such matters.

373. LITTLE DUNKELD. — Marriages are seldom registered in the place to which one or other of the parties belong, as the ceremony is generally performed in the County Town, or elsewhere. The return, in consequence, does not give fair credit to the number of marriages which took place among the people belonging to the district. Of the fifteen deaths registered, eight took place in Public Institutions. The ages of the persons who died ranged from 37 to 80 years. Parish healthy.

385. MUCKART. — Of the three deaths registered, two were of persons aged respectively 78 and 81 years.

393b. STANLEY. — Only one marriage registered during the year, the ceremonies being generally performed in Perth.

14. FIFE.

401. ABERDOUR. — One of the five deaths was caused by an accident on the North British Railway.

420. CUPAR. — Of the thirty-eight deaths registered, nine occurred in the Fife and Kinross Asylum.

438. KILRENNY. — One death was that of a sailor, whose body was found washed ashore upon the beach.

458b. TULLIALLAN. — Of the thirteen deaths registered, five were of persons aged respectively 70, 76, 78, 79, and 86 years. Two deaths were caused by Drowning.

15. KINROSS.

460. CLEISH. — The only death recorded is that of a child by Accidental Burning.

16. CLACKMANNAN.

467. DOLLAR. — Of the eight deaths registered, one resulted from an accident, and three were of persons who were each aged 77 years.

V. WEST-MIDLAND DIVISION.

17. STIRLING.

473. BOTHKENNAR. — Four deaths caused by Hooping-cough, of which there has been an epidemic.

19. ARGYLL.

Mainland.

515. KILBRANDON AND KILCHATTAN. — An increase of population has occurred in connection with the Slate Works, and consequently the births are above the average. Two deaths were caused by Typhoid Fever.

532. SOUTHEND. — The five deaths in December were caused by the sudden sinking of a salved steamer in tow, six miles off the Mull of Kintyre.

VI. SOUTH-WESTERN DIVISION.

22. AYR.

573 (1). AYR. — Two of the deaths were of persons 94 years of age, one was aged 92, and several were between 80 and 90 years.

607. MUIRKIRK. — Of the twenty-one deaths registered, six were of persons whose respective ages ranged from 72 to 87 years.

613 (2). CATRINE. — In consequence of an outbreak of Measles, the mortality among young children is above the average.

23. LANARK.

628. CAMBUSNETHAN. — Two of the males who died had each reached the age of 82 years; and five of the females were aged respectively 82, 86, 89, 92, and 97 years. Scarlet and Typhoid Fever prevalent, seven deaths therefrom.

629. CARLUKE. — Three deaths resulted from Scarlet and one from Enteric Fever.

638 (1). LARKHALL. — An epidemic of Enteric Fever occurred during the quarter, and was traced to a dairy shop in the village.

638 (2). DALSERF. — Typhoid Fever very prevalent in the Netherburn portion of the district during the past twelve months. Almost all the cases were removed to the Stonehouse and Motherwell Hospitals.

VII. SOUTH-EASTERN DIVISION.

24. LINLITHGOW.

665 (1). DALMENY. — Health of the parish very good, although cases of Scarlet Fever have occurred.

25. EDINBURGH.

682. CURRIE.—Of the five deaths registered, one was that of a newly born female child whose body was found, and two were of persons 79 and 83 years of age respectively.

683. DALKEITH.—Of the twenty-three deaths registered in December, nine resulted from Measles.

691. LASSWADE.—Four persons died at the respective ages of 89, 86, 82, and 79 years.

701. WEST CALDER.—Three of the children born were triplets.

26. HADDINGTON.

705. DIRLETON.—Deaths above the average. Hooping-cough prevalent.

27. BERWICK.

737. ECCLES.—An epidemic of Scarlet Fever occurred, and the Public School was closed for nine weeks. None of the cases fatal. The only death in December was from Typhoid Fever.

28. PEEBLES.

767. NEWLANDS. — Births, deaths, and marriages above the average. This is accounted for by the increase of population, which has arisen from the number of persons employed at the Edinburgh Water Works in the district.

772. TWEEDSMUIR.—One of the deaths was that of a man aged 99 years and 8 months. One death resulted from Diphtheria in December.

VIII. SOUTHERN DIVISION.

30. ROXBURGH.

784. CASTLETON.—An epidemic of Hooping-cough occurred, and was followed by one of Measles, and four of the eight deaths are due to these causes.

792. JEDBURGH.—In November the deaths of two brothers occurred within four days of each other, at the respective ages of 71 and 77 years.

799 (1). MELROSE.—One-third of the deaths for the year occurred in the District Asylum.

31. DUMFRIES.

834. KIRKCONNEL.—Deaths above the average. Measles prevalent during November and December. Of the twenty-five deaths registered during the year, three were of persons 84 years of age, one was 82, and one 81 years.

32. KIRKCUDBRIGHT.

857b. BARGRENNAN.—The only death registered is that of a woman who was over 82 years of age.

33. WIGTOWN.

894. OLD LUCE.—Of the four deaths registered in October, two were of females aged respectively 93 and 92 years.

* The actual number of Districts is 1071—many Parishes and Burghs having been divided into two or more Districts for the purpose of Registration. Thus Edinburgh and Glasgow, to each of which only a single number is assigned in the Tables, consist of 6 and 14 Districts respectively. In forming the alphabetical arrangement the principle adopted has been to place compound names in the order in which they are pronounced.
